Provincial Librarian Jan. '35
Parliament Bldgs.

ALBERTA LEGISLATIVE LIBRARY
NOV 8 1934

The Wainwright Star

M. B. McLEOD
Draying and Teaming
Service and Satisfaction

VOL. XXVII, No. 1 WAINWRIGHT, ALBERTA WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7th, 1934 Price $2.00 Per Year In Advance

Public Sch. Teacher's Meet Thurs. & Friday

PEDAGOGUES OF WAINWRIGHT AND DISTRICT GATHER HERE

Tomorrow and Friday the children of the schools of the Wainwright Inspectorate will be enjoying a holiday the while those responsible for their learning will sit in convention at their annual gathering.

A number of interesting papers have been prepared for this meeting, and the general public are heartily invited to be present at any of the sessions.

Mayor M. L. Forster (on behalf of the Town of Wainwright) and Mrs. H. L. Coursier (on behalf of the School Board) will extend a welcome to the delegates at the opening of the sessions.

On Thursday evening the theatre should be crowded, when Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the university of Alberta, is to address the big public meeting, and this versatile and powerful speaker will without a doubt be bringing a message of great moment to the people of this district upon matters of educational. There is no admission charge for this meeting which commences at eight p.m.

The full progremme of the two-day convention is as follows, the officers responsible being: Miss L. Mabey, president; Mr. M. D. Meade, vice-president; Mr. O. W. Murray, sec.-treas.; and Miss Leslie, Miss R. Gulley, Mrs. H. Sigurdson, executive.

THURSDAY
In the I.O.O.F. Hall

Morning Session—9.00, Registration; 10.00, Invocation, Rev. T. E. Armstrong, B.A., B.D.

Addresses of Welcome—Mayor M. L. Forster, "On behalf of the Town of Wainwright"; Mrs. H. L. Coursier, B. A., "On behalf of the Wainwright School Board."

Reply—Mr. Geo. Taylor, Fabyan School District.

Appointment of Committees—(a) Nomination; (b) Resolution.

10.30—Discussion re Musical Festi-

(Continued on page five)

§ WEDDING BELLS §

RICHARDSON—TRATLIE

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Thomas church on Thursday afternoon, November 1st, when the contracting parties were Miss Lena Tratlie of Ribstone and Mr. William Hawkins Richardson also of Ribstone. The witnesses were Mrs. Tratlie, mother of the bride and Mr. George Leggett, both of Ribstone. Rev. C. N. Bateman, R.D. officiated.

Well-Known Radio Artists In Pictures

"Myrt and Marge" the well-known radio artists, who put on the Universal comedy for Wednesday and Thursday, November 14 and 15th, show a much better than usual programme entertainment. The gags, jokes (risque and otherwise) and wise-cracks are all up to the minute stuff and take their place in the story for the interest catching of the audience.

The theme of the picture combines radio broadcasting with a story of backstage atmosphere, which centers around a poorly-financed travelling comedy troupe, which somehow meets lots of misfortune as it tours "the sticks" up-state in New York.

Through the girls, a moneyed "angel" is found but although all comes out well so far as the salaries are concerned, it is only through a long role of screamingly funny situations, that the "fade-out" is a happy one.

Hallowe'en Party & Dance At Theatre

MERRY CROWD CELEBRATES GHOST NIGHT IN TOWN

With an augmented orchestra under the capable direction of Mr. Alec. Adams, a merry crowd fittingly celebrated "ghost and goblin" night at the Elite theatre on the "witching" night last week.

Decorated by the management to Nth degree, the theatre displayed all the emblems for the occasion, and those attending were given a truly happy time attired as they were in their novel attire and with plenty of noise-makers.

During the evening a number of prizes were distributed to the lucky "spot" dance winners, and in addition a handsome electric clock and a "Miss Betty Boop" were won as special door prizes, these awards going to Miss H. Hedlund and Miss D. Wilkins respectively.

The ladies of the local W.I. served a dandy lunch during the festivities, and in the drawing for the quilt which that organization had completed for the occasion Mrs. J. Chynoweth was found to be holding the winning ticket.

Young Girl Nearly Robbed of Inheritance

To be left at a very tender age in the care of strangers in a foreign country, and to be brought up amid surroundings entirely at variance with hereditary training, Miss Evelyn Barnes, although happy in her sordid surroundings, was accepting life as it came to her, and feeling that as things were they were fully acceptable to her.

But unfortunately she was being held back from all those things to which she had both moral and legal right, and without her knowledge and also unbeknown to those in whose charge she had been placed years ago, a large fortune was her legal right.

After eighteen years of comnon place living and drudgery in a tea garden in Japan, through meeting a young man clandestinely, to whom she was attracted, she was dribbled to meet the man who had quite unwittingly had the use of her vast fortune for that length of time, and becomes finally possessed of her dues.

The young lady is now a resident of Wainwright, and all will rejoice in her good fortune, when they have the whole thing explained to them at the production of "Miss Cherryblossom" at the theatre on Friday, evening November 23rd next. Reserved seats at the Standard Pharmacy.

Battle River Voters Increase Since 1930

The registration of electors in the electoral district of Battle River is now completed, and with only 3 polls to receive returnsfrom, show the following figures:

1934—177 polls out of 180	20,049 voters
1930	19,054 voters
Gain with three polls to hear from	995

One hundred and seventy-seven enumerators have returned their preliminary lists of electors to the Registrar. These lists are to be revised by the enumerators, the official revision period being Nov. 13, 14 and 15. The final lists will then be completed for use in the next general election.

Preliminary lists of electors are now posted by the enumerators in their respective polling divisions. Electors thus have an opportunity of inspecting these to be certain that their names, correctly spelled, have been entered on the list. Provision is also made for the striking out of unqualified persons whose names have inadvertently been placed on the lists by the enumerators.

November 15th is the last day on which any change may be made on the lists and these are at the Star Office.

BATTLE VALLEY SCHOOL REPORT FOR OCTOBER

The following is the standing of the pupils of Battle Valley school for the month of October, the conduct of all scholars being commendable:

Grade IX. and X.—Marjorie Alban, 87.6.

Grade VIII.—Willis Mitchell, 66.66.

Grade VII.—Bernard Lacey, 95; Mary Smith, 87; Edwin Christian, 85; Robert Smith, 83.6; B. and V. Gust, absent.

Grade V.—Lois Kingdon, 91.8; Geraldine Smith, 90.4; Phyllis Lacey, 85.

Grade IV.—Sylvia Christian, 86.2; Viola Alban, 82.4.

Grade III.—Fraser Dorland (good standing).

Grade II.—Georgina Gardener, 1st; Don Dorland, 2nd; Jimmy Smith, 3rd.

Grade I.—Jeanette Heffren (excel. standing).

Miss J. M. ETHRIDGE, teacher.

Canada Will Respect Her Glorious Dead

The 11th day of November has been set apart by the Government of Canada as "Remembrance Day." On this date sixteen years ago the Great War ended. A war which lasted over four years and in which 562,208 men and women of the British Empire including 60,000 Canadians, laid down their lives for honor, justice and freedom, principles for which we too should be "ever ready to live or die valiantly."

"Remembrance Day" is not a holiday; it is a Holy Day, sacred to the memory of our heroic dead. It reminds us that Canada stood with the other great Dominions side by side with the Motherland; that nearly 600,000 Canadians were under arms; that 2520 nurses enlisted; that both nurses and men proved themselves equal to those who had had years of training for Active Service; that thousands of broken hearts and bodies and blighted lives resulted; and that 60,000 Canadians lie sleeping in the "Gardens of the Dead" in Flanders and other battlefields. Why? The answer is given in the words of Sir Robert Borden, then Prime Minister; "Not for Love of battle, not forgetting Vimy," are forever emblazoned on the standards of Canadian regiments and on the hearts and minds of those who survived.

We are all familiar with the following words: "My duty to my country is to love it, to obey and maintain its laws, respect its flag, and to

(Continued on page four)

Alberta Wheat Crop Value Up $23,220,000

Compared with a year ago, the wheat crop in the territory for which Edmonton is the distributing centre has an increased valuation of approximately $11,600,000.

The higher prices for wheat have enhanced the valuation of the total Alberta crop by $23,220,000 and it is figuring on the conservative side to say that one-half of that benefit extends to the region north of Red Deer.

These figures it is claimed remove any justification for pessimism due to the extensive frost damage. While grades were lowered through frost damage, higher prices and greater yields in fact have put farmers on the whole in a better position than they were a year ago.

The Dominion's department of statistics puts Alberta's wheat crop for this year at 116,000,000 bushels.

The Public Are Invited

On Thursday (tomorrow) evening at 8 p.m. in the Elite Theatre, Wainwright, Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta will address a public meeting, under the auspices of the Teachers' Convention. No charge will be made for admission, and our readers are all cordially invited to take advantage of the opportunity to hear such a engaging and learned speaker.

Night Robbery at Greenshields

As we go to press we learn that a robbery occurred at the Morrison store at Greenshields some time during the night of Monday.

From information obtainable, it appears that the thieves first made entrance to the premises by way of the basement and failing to get into the store above by that means, they succeeded in entering the store by crashing one of the store front windows.

Apparently the depredators were only seeking money, as although some five or six dollars in silver was taken from the cash register, nothing else seems to have been removed from the stock with which the store is filled except some apples and cigarettes. The R.C.M.P. have the matter in hand.

PROVINCIAL LIBERAL CANDIDATE

MR. PETER MILNE

who is to contest the next provincial election in the Wainwright constituency in the interests of the Liberal Party. The recently-nominated candidate, who was born at Rapid City, Manitoba, in 1900, and will thus possibly be the youngest contestant in the next election, has resided for the past 24 years in the Edgerton district. He has been engaged both at farming and in business being at present head of the Milne Lumber Co. at that place.

Card of Thanks

The members of the Greenshields W. A. of the United church, extend their hearty thanks to all who so fully supported their bean supper and Sale of Work last week, whereby they were able to attain such a success for their efforts.

IRMA MAN STARTING PURE HEREFORD HERD

Mr. A. E. Blakley, who is starting a herd of pure-breds on his farm at Irma, last week purchased from the Dolphin and Green ranch east of town a dandy bunch of pure-bred Hereford stock for foundation purposes. Chas. E. Riley, of Hardisty, last week end obtained a splendid pure-bred Hereford sire to head his herd, and Tom Withnell has also purchased still another herd head for his farm. Both of these animals came from the same ranch.

§ LOCAL NOTES §

Miss Adele Irving, the teacher at Plaxtol school spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. E. Lane.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Washburn spent a few days in the city at the week end.

* * *

Mrs. C. Church has now returned from her recent visit to Edmonton and Tofield.

Local Swine Club Hold Competition

On Tuesday, November 20th, Mr. Andrews of the Vermilion school of agriculture, and a government hog grader from the city will be in town for a swine judging competition under the auspices of the local swine club. Prizes will be awarded for several points of the affair, as well as an extra five dollar bill which Bill Stuart is offering to the person marketing the best three hogs judged that day.

A meeting in the Town Hall will follow the judging. Mr. Geo. Clark or Bill Stuart will explain the whole thing to you.

"DEAD" AND SAVINGS GONE, CANADIAN SUES FOR LIFE

VICTORIA — Seventy-year-old Thomas Dresser has instituted proceedings in the local courts to bring himself back to life.

When he took his frayed savings book into a Victorian bank recently he was amazed to learn he could not draw on his savings for the reason that officially he was dead.

Some months ago the Supreme Court of British Columbia declared Dresser dead, owing to the fact that he had not been seen for years by those who knew him, and his estate was ordered divided among his relatives, some of whom live in New Zealand. The government had collected succession duties. Dresser's predicament on his return is causing much speculation in legal circles.

Mr. W. H. Heffernan spent a few days in Edmonton during the past week.

Local Resident Suffers Loss of Parent By Death

MRS. AMBROSE DICKINS CALLED TO REWARD

Sympathies are being expressed to Mr. F. C. Dickins who last week was bereaved by the death of his mother in Edmonton.

Mrs. Ambrose Dickins, a well-known resident of Edmonton for the past 25 years, died at her home there on the night of Wednesday last. She had been in poor health for more than a year, and during the past week or two had failed considerably.

The deceased was a native of Ontario, being born in Belleville 1863, being this 71 years of age at the time of her passing. Some 50 years ago she came westward to Portage la Prairie, Man., and after spending a couple of years there, she was married to Mr. Dickins in Winnipeg.

They came to Edmonton in 1909, and have since both been prominent in the city's life and affairs. Mrs. Dickins was at one time on the staff of the Edmonton Journal.

The late Mrs. Dickins is survived by her husband and two sons, Francis C., of Wainwright, and C. H. (Punch), of Edmonton, and also one sister, Mrs. J. Chapleau, of Ottawa, Ontario. She was well-known to a large circle of friends and acquaintances here, and has been a frequent visitor to town.

The funeral was held on Saturday last at Christ Church, where Rev. Canon J. M. Comyn-Ching was in

(Continued on page four)

Resume of Gathering Presbyterian Synod

RED DEER SCENE OF ANNUAL MEETING THIS YEAR

On motion of Rev. E. A. Wright, who has spoken several times in St. Andrew's (Pres.) church here, and is well known to local Presbyterians the synod of Alberta went on record as favoring the elimination of filth in moving pictures and in posters used for advertising such shows.

The action was taken just before the adjournment at the annual meeting of the synod held in Knox church, Red Deer last week.

Rev. H. R. Horne, synodical executive, who has also held service here, read a paper on Christian Stewardship.

Rev. J. Shortt, D.D., of Barrie, Ont., moderator of the General Assembly, addressed the synod, and speeches were also made by Rev. Geo. Young, a native Albertan who is now a missionary to India, and by Rev. G. G. Wheeler, representing the Lord's Day Alliance.

Rev. P. C. McCrea, of McLeod, formerly of Wetaskiwin, was elected as moderator in succession to Rev J. McNeil of Calgary, and at the close it was decided to meet in Edmonton.

Among those in attendance were Rev. W. S. Brooker, Wainwright; Rev. A. Walker, Lloydminster; and Rev. M. Simpson, formerly of Chauvin.

A meeting of the members of St. Thomas' (Ang.) W. A. will be held today (Wednesday) at the home of Mrs. J. Middlemass at 2.30 p.m. This will be a sewing meeting, and the regular monthly meeting of the auxiliary will be held at the vicarage in the evening.

Generous Donations Obtained By B. of T.

The following shows the list of donations which were procured by the Board of Trade on behalf of the Baseball Club, and while thanking each and every one of these generous givers, the manager and the boys are delighted to report that the club will now be "out of the red" as the result of the efforts made on their behalf.

H. C. Link	$26.75
Wain. Elks Lodge	25.00
Wain. Board of Trade	25.00
Pon Soon	5.00
W. E. Washburn	10.00
Rudd and Patterson	5.00
Tom Martin	5.00
C. G. Forryan	5.00
Hefferman and Son	5.00
Gold Standard Oil	5.00
H. P. Schlitt	5.00
Atlas Lumber Co.	5.00
H. C. Wallace	5.00
R. A. Snyder	5.00
Empress Cafe	.50
O. R. Hannah	1.00
W. S. Clark	2.00
J. Telford	2.00
Gordon Graham	1.00
B. W. Karman	1.50
W. J. Huntingford	7.00
Earl L. Cork	1.00
Calgary Power	5.00
J. A. MacKenzie	2.50
R. T. Wright	1.00
E. E. Squires	1.00
Cowley's Bakery	1.00
Alma Meat	1.00
L. Salsbury	1.00
C. W. McBride	5.00
W. A. Knowles	1.00
W. J. O'Callaghan	5.00
A. C. Armstrong Ltd.	5.00
C. T. Lally	2.00
A. G. Smith	5.00
J. C. McLeod and Son	1.00
G. Murray	1.00
R. G. Dunsmore	1.00
Geo. Agnew	2.50
J. Guthrie	2.50
J. Fraser	10.00
E. E. Tory	2.45
G. G. Maynes	5.00
J. Simpson	2.00
Safeway Stores	5.00

§ OBITUARY §

BEATRICE I. McKAY

The funeral took place on November 2nd of Beatrice Irene McKay, of Amisk who died at the hospital on October 30th. The interment was conducted by the McLeod's parlors, and was at Amisk. The deceased was in her thirteenth year. A large array of floral tributes covered the casket.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clipston and Miss Helen drove to the city on Sunday last for a short visit with friends.

Anglican Church Bishop Holds Confirmation

On Sunday evening last St. Thomas church was crowded to capacity many having to stand when His Lordship, Rt. Rev. A. E. Burgett, was present for the rite of confirmation. Twelve young people were instructed and presented by the Vicar. The address which His Lordship gave to the candidates was both instructive and inspiring.

In the morning His Lordship also confirmed two candidates at St. Georges, Metropolitan (south of Jarrow). Here also a large congregation was present. Immediately following the service long tables were set up in the school house and the whole congregation enjoyed a delightful lunch. At 3 p.m. His Lordship was present at Irma for evensong.

U. of Alta. Competition For Amateur Plays

The Department of Extension of the University of Alberta announces the third annual play-writing competition open to residents of the Province of Alberta. This competition is made possible through the generosity of the Carnegie Foundation.

A prize of $125.00 will be awarded for the best three act play; a prize of $75 for the best one-act play; and a prize of $50 for a third play chosen from either group. The judges may reserve awards, should they feel that the plays submitted are of insufficient merit to justify a decision.

Rules of the Competition are:

(1) The contest is open to any resident of Alberta.

(2) The play must be the original work of the competitor and must not have been previously submitted.

(3) It is desired that the playwright should be left as unhampered as possible by rules and regulations. However, it is suggested that the play have a Canadian background, if possible.

(4) The play may be in any number of scenes or acts, the playing time not to be less than 30 minutes and not to exceed 2½ hours.

(5) Competitors are advised to submit copies, not original scripts, as the return of the copy is not guaranteed.

(6) All plays are to be typewritten, double spaced, on one side of regulation bond paper, 8½x11, with a margin of two inches.

(7) The Carnegie Trust Committee and Department of Extension reserve the right to produce any of these plays without payment of royalty within one year after the contest closes.

(8) The competition closes on February 2nd, 1935. Plays bearing a postmark later than February 2nd will not be accepted.

(9) Plays should be submitted to Mr. E. A. Corbett, Director of the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Mrs. A. Sawers entertained a number of her friends this week at an evening's bridge.

* * *

Messrs E. Lane and R. Ganderton, who have been prospecting around the north-west country, returned home last week end.

Sam Goldwyn Master Production At Elite

RONALD COLMAN PLAYS HERE IN THE MASQUERADER

One of Samuel Goldwyn's famous pictures produced by United Artists "The Masquerader" is showing at the theatre on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, November 11-12-13, and this will no doubt draw an appreciative crowd of fans.

This picture, starring Ronald Colman, deals with a man's "double" in real life, and the way in which even the wife of one man and the mistress of another man handle a delicate situation without even suspecting the "doubling" is startlingly realistic.

Through the ruin of a drug-craving life, a society fellow is brought to the last dregs, but his name and position are both saved through the kindly assistance of his cousin who doubles for him through a series of crises, and upon the death of the first-named, he even takes over the complete affairs of the dead man, and finally becomes a great political leader and marries the wife of the former sot, whose position and good name he had shielded for so long.

It is truly a powerful story and one with a tempting love theme cleverly interwoven throughout.

Vermilion Sch. of Agric. Has Large Enrolment

The Vermilion School of Agriculture opened on Tuesday last with an actual enrolment of 125 students for the first day and by Thursday morning the registration had crept up to 140. Another contingent of boys and girls is expected from the Peace River on Thursday night, and these with others who are delayed by threshing will make it at least touch the 150 mark. In the group is the largest class of first-year boys ever registered in the history of the school with 74 already in class and another ten expected.

The students are gathered from all sections of Northern Alberta—from Chauvin, south-east, straight across 700 miles to the Peace River and from an area of approximately 200 to 300 miles the other way.

There is still room in the commodious dormitory for some ten to twelve girls and we would suggest that any girls who may be delayed for a few days should register as soon as possible. A free calendar is sent to anyone upon request.

Mr. and Mrs. Barber, of Irma, with their son Clarence, and Mr. and Mrs. Willerton of Fabyan, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hughes in town.

TODAY & TOMORROW

By Frank Parker Stockbridge

CREDIT its obligations

The whole trouble with the credit situation today, as a banker friend of mine explains it to me, is that the people who are asking for credit are not entitled to it and those who are entitled to it are not using it. To be entitled to credit at a bank, a man must either be the owner of property which can be thrown on the market and converted into cash quickly, to meet his loan when it comes due, or else be able to show that there is a better than even chance that by using the borrowed money in business he can make enough to pay off the loan and leave himself a profit.

Too many people have the idea that everybody ought to be able to walk into a bank and borrow money, regardless of his prospects of repaying it. The honest banker, responsible to his depositors for the careful investment of their money, can't lend it out that way. Very few people in any community know how to use money profitably; if most of us did more of us would be rich.

I think one of the principal causes of the present distress is that too much credit was extended in boom times to people who were not entitled to it and who did not know how to use it.

* * *

CASH it's scarce

The other day I talked with five or six of my country neighbors in the course of one Saturday morning. Every one of them said that cash was harder to get hold of than it had ever been in their memory. I went to New York and met a couple of business men whom I know well. Both reported that business was good—one said beter than for 5 years in volume and price—but that collections were slower than ever. Even the largest corporations were taking from two weeks to two months longer to pay their bills than they had ever done before.

As I write this I have just come from lunching with another business man. He gave it as his opinion that people are feeling the depression worse this year than at any previous time. More folk are going "on relief" because they have come to the end of their reserves. They cannot buy anything because they have no money left with which to buy.

I have a distinct feeling that nobody, in or out of Government, has yet put the finger upon the weak spot in our econgmic system which makes it possible for such conditions to continue.

* * *

SECURITY . . . "clear" real estate

The only people, men or institutions who are in a secure position today are the ones who owe nothing and who have some source of income not dependent upon the daily turnover of trade. Those and the self-sustaining farmers of whom there are many.

I have one friend whose property consists of real estate in a large eastern city. His grandfather founded the fortune which his father conserved and which has now come under his mamagement as trustee for all the heirs. The policy laid down by the founder of the fortune was never to borrow a cent, never mortgage a piece of property. If the rents were not enough to live on, cut down personal living expenses but don't impair the capital by selling some of it.

My friend has been accustomed to spending a hundred thousand a year or more. Now he is living at the rate of $12,000 a year. But every piece of property he owns is rented, although what the thousand or so tenants can pay is not much more than enough to pay the taxes and upkeep. The property still stands, however, and some day prosperity will return and rents will go up again.

Real estate comes the nearest to offering security of anything I konw of. But not when it is mortgaged.

* * *

INVESTMENTS diamonds

I talked the other day with the diamond expert of America's most famous jewelry house. He told me that the prices of good quality, well cut diamonds are nearly double what they were three or four years ago. In another store I asked the head of the diamond jewelry department how business was. He replied that they were selling more diamonds, and at better prices, than for years.

People with some capital reserves he explained, are putting their money into diamonds as the safest way of conserving their capital, possibly increasing it and converting it back into cash over night. Europeans taking advantage of the depreciated dollar, are sending to America to buy diamonds.

These diamond purchasses represent largely, capital that ordinarily would go into industrial or commercial investments now, but they want their money where they can get it out quickly if the upturn comes, and the diamond market has always been an instantaneous market, in which minimum prices are rigidly maintained by South African Diamond Trust.

* * *

PRICES in the city

City folks are paying more for what they eat and wear than for several years. Prices are going up. But how far that benefits the farmer I am somewhat doubtful.

The general effect, as far as I can observe it, is that most city people are cutting down on their food, either eating less or buying cheaper grades and kinds of food than they have been accustomed to.

So far as clothing is concerned, there is a great turnover in the very cheapest lines of men's and women's clothing, but many merchants who handled only high-grade garments are closing their stores.

More men that I meet are wearing old clothes than ever before. More women are doing their own dressmaking, and making over last year's clothes to this year's styles.

It is a fact that city people's investments, are not going up but, in many cases, are still going down.

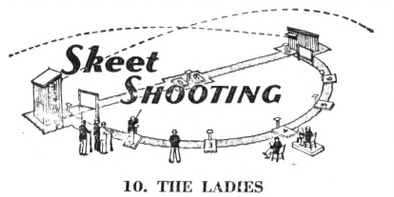

Ladies! Attention

Your Corsettiere is always ready to give your needs the closest attention.

Phone 81 for Appointment

Mdme. H. Messier

The Spirella Lady

10. THE LADIES

IN our first article of this series we said that Skeet, although an aristocrat amongst sports, is truly democratic, that is, it is within the financial reach of everyone. More than this, Skeet is a sport for every one, young or old, and regardless of sex. Here is the established outdoor sport in which the ladies may meet the sterner sex on an equal basis.

It pays no premium to muscular strength or masculine endurance. It is a contest of wits, of keen eyes and quick nerves. Women, with faster reactions than men, may, and do, participate without any sense of handicap and with tremendous success.

The modern woman, therefore, since she is always enthused and thrilled with new sensations, finds in Skeet enjoyment par excellence. Then, too, happy family parties may be arranged for the Skeet field. Mother is no longer neglected, to stay at home with daughter, whilst the male members of the family depart to indulge in their favourite sport.

Feminine intuition sometimes belies on the reputed kick of shotguns. But most guns do not kick, and certainly one that fits will not. A shot or two and this hazy misconception will fade into the background.

As a last word to the ladies, or for the men readers to add to their persuasive arguments when they tackle their women folk on the subject of Skeet—in the next hundred or so of Skeet clubs which are flourishing today in the United States, there are many hundreds of women members. Some of these, indeed, have attained a high degree of proficiency, as may be seen by referring to one of the many sporting magazines that run a Skeet page. The sport remains fascinating to those with the highest shooting skill, but at the same time enables the beginner to enjoy moderate success. Gertrude L. Travis, Editor of the Women's Department of Skeet Shooting News, advises women Skeeters, in part, as follows:

"Wear comfortable clothing, loose enough for the free movement of the arms, but not loose enough to be bungling. Wear flat shoes for the firm footing necessary, and shooting glasses for eye protection. Get a gun that fits and that you can shoot without any dread. Learn to swing smoothly and follow through after the shot is fired. Observe strictly every rule of safety and of shooting etiquette.

"Then if you are of normal physical make-up, and have fair eyesight, and are willing to go through the primary stages that the beginner in any worthwhile sport must, you can join the group on the Skeet field, enjoy every minute of it and when the scores are posted, there is no reason why you should be in the lower bracket.

"Skeet is a sport that women can enjoy as well as men. This is not just a general statement. There are enough successful women Skeet shooters at this moment to prove this to be a fact."

This is No. 10 of a series of 12 articles on Skeet Shooting. Cut it out. When all have been clipped, you will have a complete write-up of this sportsman's sport which is rapidly becoming the vogue across Canada.

FLOOR COVERINGS

Best Grade Printed LINOLEUM, 3 yards wide, per lin. yd.	$2.85
Best grade printed LINOLEUM, 4 yards wide, per lin. yd.	$3.80
BAROLEUM, 2 yards wide, per lineal yard	$1.00
BAROLEUM, 3 yards wide, per lineal yard	$1.95
STAIR OILCLOTH, 24 inches wide, per yard	50¢
PASSAGE CONGOLEUM 27 inches wide, per yard	60¢
FELTOL RUGS, 14x27	15¢
CONGOLEUM RUGS, 18x36	40¢

J. C. McLeod and Son

MAIN STREET PHONE 14 WAINWRIGHT

New HOTEL York CALGARY CENTRE ST. at 7th AVE.

EXTRA LOW RATES From $1.50

Excellent COFFEE SHOP

ALSO OPERATING

HOTEL ST. REGIS

RATES $1 and $1.50 — WEEKLY and MONTHLY RATES

SLAT'S DIARY

Friday—Pa made up a resolushun this morning he wassent a going to let no More Miss takes get into the noose paper where he wirks at and then when he was printing a story about Mrs. Ogleston singing a solo at the Mass meeting he spoke of her having long ben considered one of the best Sinkers in the Community.

Saterday—Pa and the rest of his club at a dinner tonite and pa offered a prise to the oldest lady Present and they wassent any 1 chamed the prise for the oldest lady present.

Sunday—Unkel Hen was here at are house today and he told pa he had went and sold his farm and pa sed what did he Realise on it when he sold his farm and Unkel Hen sed the oney thing he realized was that he got a good Jipping when he sold his farm.

Munday—Ma had a new dish at dinner time today and pa wanted to know what it was and ma replyed and sed it was like sum thing his Mother use to make and pa studyed a wile and then he sed. Well I think you are miss taken becuz my mother never made Soft Sope. I wood give enny thing if I didn't haif to stay home this evning.

Tesaday—Ant Emmy ast Ell Spots how much munny a man must have if sheed marry him and Ell sed. Well ie shud ought to have enuff munny to by the marriage insense it seamed like.

Wensday—Jake Grubs got put in jale today becuz he nocked his wife threw the frunt door last nite. He told the judge the reason he done it wus that she told him she diddent believe he loved her enny more.

Thursday Pa was tawking to a Nu ist today and she sed in her opinyu they ain't even aloud to put dressing on there Salad opposite to each other. God suffers or permits men to have a small measure of life, even though they do not have the right thereto, but in due time every man dies; hence it is written: "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."—1 Corinthians 15:22.

Jesus gave up his life as a man that mankind might have an opportunity to live, and God raised up Jesus to life as a divine spirit and clothed Him with authority to give life to man. When on earth Jesus said: 'I am come that the people may have life.' (John 10:10) He also said that He came to give His life a ransom for many, that is to say, as many as would accept life on the terms offered. (Matthew 20:28) There is no possible way for any man to get everlasting life except by faith in the shed blood of Jesus Christ. (Acts 4:12) Since Jesus gave his life as a man for the redemption of mankind, it is the will of God that all men shall hear the truth and thus be given an opportunity to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and obey His righteous law and live.

Satan is bent on turning all mankind away from God and to cause their eternal destruction; hence he keeps the people in ignorance concerning the truth. For that reason Satan has caused so many confusing doctrines to be preached to the people. Such false doctrines do not find support in the Bible, but they are the teachings of men and they originate with Satan. The only place to find the truth is in the Bible. Jesus said: "Thy word is truth." (John 17: 17) The sin of the first man Adam brought death upon all the human race, and the precious blood of Jesus provided the way for all men to have an opportunity for life. It is written, in Romans 5:18: "Therefore, as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life."

In order to accept Jehovah's gracious gift of life man must learn of the provision therefor. Although the Devil has for centuries attempted to keep all men from a knowledge of the truth, yet there have at all times been a few men on earth who have believed on and obeyed God. Since the days of the apostles of Jesus there have been comparatively a small number of men and women who have become true followers of Christ Jesus and who have been faithful unto God. To such the promise is made: "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life." (Revelation 2.10) That means that such faithful ones will receive the highest element of life which is existence in happiness in a divine state.

The great mass of mankind, however, have died in total ignorance of the truth, and hence have had no opportunity to accept Jesus as their Savior. It is written in the Scriptures that all of such shall be brought forth from the graves and be given a knowledge of the truth, that they may have opportunity to obey and live. There are now millions of persons on earth who are hearing the truth, and those who believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and who obey Jehovah God's righteous law, shall live and shall not die. Concerning such Jesus said: "If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death."—John 8:51.

Life in happiness is what all creatures desire. It would be of no profit to you to gain all the wealth of the earth and fail to get life. The Bible points out the way to everlasting life; and where to find the text, and the explanation thereof, is set out in the book "Reconciliation". You should acquire this correct knowledge and be diligent to teach the same to your children and to your friends. God made the earth for man to live on, and now is the time for you to learn how you may live for ever on the earth in peace and prosperity with those whom you love.

The Watch Tower

Bible Lecture Contributed by Jehovah's Witnesses

LIFE

By J. F. RUTHERFORD

A creature that breathes, moves, is conscious, and thinks, is properly said to live. Death is the very opposite of life, because a dead man does not breathe, cannot move, he is entirely unconscious, and knows not anything. (Ecclesiastes 9:5, 10) If a creature possessed the right to live he might live for ever. Adam had the right to life, but he lost it because of his disobedience to God, and in due time he entirely lost life. No one can get life except by the will of God; therefore it is written: "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Romans 6:23) This text shows that life and death are exactly

School-Boy Boners

Chivalry is the attitude of a man toward a strange woman.

Philosophy means being able to explain why you are happy even when you are poor.

The Bible is against bigamy when it says no man can serve two masters.

The animal which possesses the greatest attachment for man is woman.

Henry Ford invented perpetual motion.

A ruminant is an animal that chaws its cub.

Heredity is a bad thing and it ought to be prevented.

All brutes are imperfect animals.

The stomach is a bowl-shaped cavity containing the organs of indigestion.

When the next war comes, those of fighting age will fight, just as they always have done—and those who dodge the fighting will make money, just as they have always done.

4-H CLUB NEWS

4-H means, Heart, Head, Hands and Health and"Make the best better" is the slogan of the thousands of 4-H clubs of boys and girls throughout the land The stories of achievement of the boy and girl members, in fitting themselves for a life of usefulness, are almost always an inspiration which insures interest.

GIRL LEADS SIX CLUBS

A girl who leads six clubs at one time and does a fine job of it is Cora Mae Briggs, 18-year old 4-H girl, near Seward, Neb. Her clubs have 68 girls enrolled, and their interest in their project is unusually high.

The girl's success is attributed to her own splendid experience and record in 4-H club work covering seven years, and to a knack for organizing the programs of her groups. Miss Briggs says it is not nearly as hard to lead six clubs as it seems. On the other hand, her superiors tell us that she has actually spent 50 or more hours a month in looking after her groups, and has supplied her own auto and its upkeep. Her happiness she says, is derived from feeling that she is repaying her community for the advantages it has afforded her.

"It is not easy to hold the interest of the girls in 4-H club work unless you make it interesting," says Miss Briggs. "And it detracts none the less from the value of the work to make it so. In the first place in each club we lay out a definite program such as the members wants. It aims to satisfy as fully as it can the educational and social needs of the group.

"If a group prefers cooking and gardening or poultry to clothing, we agree on such subjects. Nearly any normal girl is willing to put forth an effort to improve some talent, so it is possible to enlist the proper interest to make a club a success. Sooner or later a girl who has become proficient in cooking will want to dress herself a little better, and thus an interest is created in all projects which give a girl the broad training she should have."

One way of keeping interest high in clubs is to go after rewards and recognitions in an organized way. Miss Briggs is always looking for chances of this kind. To win a prize or place always is an incentive to a member to do better.

Canada's air-mail service commenced about Christmas, 1927. One of the most remarkable routes is between Fort McMurray, in Alberta, and Aklavik, North West Territory, 1,676 miles, and reaching nearly three hundred miles within the Arctic Circle.

MEET MISS CHERRYBLOSSOM in the

ELITE THEATRE, WAINWRIGHT on

Fri., November 23rd

at EIGHT p.m. sharp

Tickets 50c Reserved Seats 25c extra

Plan at Standard Pharmacy Where General Admission Tickets can be exchanged

CAN IT BE DONE? — By Ray Gross

Do you think this idea is practical? Write Ray Gross in care of this newspaper

YOUR HOME IS YOUR CASTLE

Admit only clean, constructive news by reading

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

A Daily Newspaper for the Home

"gives all the constructive world news but does not exploit crime and scandal. Has interesting feature pages for all the family on Women's Activities, Homemaking, Gardens, Education and Books. Also pages for the Children and Young Folks. Vigorous editorials, an interpretation of news in the "March of the Nations" Column and "Watching the World Go By" are of especial interest to men.

The Christian Science Publishing Society
One Norway Street, Boston, Massachusetts
Please enter my subscription to The Christian Science Monitor for a period of

One year	$9.00	Three months	$2.25
Six months	4.50	One month	75c

Name.....
Street.....
City..... State.....

Sample Copy on Request

COME TO VANCOUVER BRITISH COLUMBIA

be a guest of the Hotel GEORGIA

THE MOST POPULAR HOTEL ON THE COAST

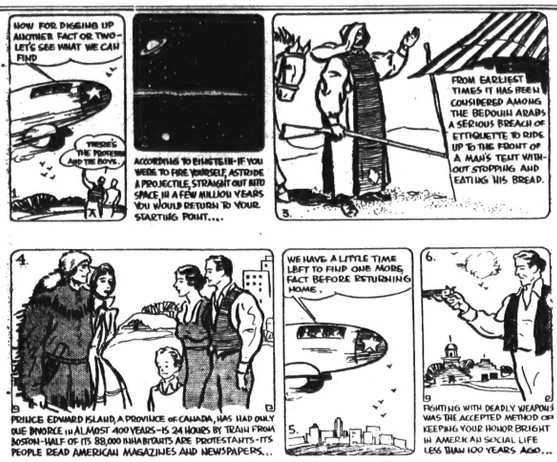

THE life of the city centres about the Georgia. You'll enjoy the cosmopolitan atmosphere and ultra-modern facilities of this fine hotel—you'll appreciate every service being so reasonable and friendly.

WINTER RATES
220 Outside Rooms, all with Bath or Shower.
Daily, Single from..... $ 2.50
Weekly, Single from..... 15.00
Monthly, Single from..... 55.00

For any information write,
E. W. HUDSON, Manager

CENTRAL ··· SMART INEXPENSIVE

The Fact Finders - - - By Ed. Kressy

Experimental Farms News

WINTERING BROOD SOWS

Although is may sound rather problematial, it is nevertheless a fact that the success of the swine breeder is largely determined before the birth of his pigs, by the comfort (feeding and housing) of his brood sows from before breeding until farrowing.

The winter ration fed to the sows at the Dominion experimental Station, Lacombe, is composed of four parts of ground oats and one part of ground barley, balanced with skimmilk or buttermilk. If these are not available, tankage is added at the rate of three to five per cent. of meal ration. Alfalfa, sweet clover or greenfeed, fed from racks, provides roughage which is very beneficial to brood sows.

A mineral mixture of 76 pounds slaked coal, 20 pounds salt, 3 pounds ground limestone and 1 pound sulphur is kept before the sows at all times.

To prevent goitre in their litters one tablespoonful per sow of a solution of one ounce of potassium idodide in ne gallon of water is added once a day to the drinking water.

POTATO HARVEST OF 1934

According to the preliminary estimate recently issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the total production of potatoes in Canada in 1934 will be 47,241,000 wt. from 586,800 acres, or 83 cwt. per acre, as compared with a revised estimate of 42,-745,000 cwt. from 527,000 acres, or 81 cwt. per acre in 1933 and 46,071,-000 cwt. from 564,000 acres or 82 cwt. per acre, the average for the five years, 1928-1932. By provinces, the yields in cwt. per acre are, in order, as follows with last year's figures within brackets: New Brunswick 128 (115); Prince Edward Island 120 (100); British Columbia 113 (96); Nova Scotia 112 (91); Quebec 97.7 (101.0); Ontario 69.6 (64.2); Manitoba 50 (63); Alberta 53 (58); Saskatchewan 31.4 (50.0).

There was an increase of 7.8 per cent in the 1934 potato acreage over that of 1933. In addition, the yield per acre in Canada was 2.5 per cent higher in 1934 than in 1933 so that the total production is placed 10.5 per cent above the 1933 level.

HOW TO PRODUCE THE BEST POULTRY

In a recent radio talk prepared by the Dominion Poultry Husbandman it was pointed out that both the producer and the consumer should realize it is poor business to sell or buy poultry which is thin in flesh. To sell a bird not properly finished does not pay the producer, for he misses his best opportunity to make profit. It is false economy for the consumer to buy such a bird even though the price per pound may be lower, for he gets too little flesh and too much waste.

There are two main differences in the eating of the thin bird and the fleshed bird: One is the increased proportion of edible meat on the fat bird compared with the thin bird and the other is the better quality of that flesh. An ordinary thin or range bird at 10 cents a pound is dearer than a well-fleshed bird at 15 cents per pound, because the difference in weight that the fleshed bird has is made up almost entirely of flesh, the waste, such as bones, head and feet, being practically the same whether thin or fleshed. There is also a notable difference in the quality of the flesh. The flesh on the thin bird is tough and dry, and what little oil or juice there may be, has a tendency to dry out in cooking.

The producer is evidently rather too willing to market his poultry without finish, and the consumer too often has no choice in the matter, because there is not enough of the quality product to go around. The producer is working against his own best interests every time he markets an unfinished bird. It is this last pound or two put on in the finishing that is the cheapest to produce.

At the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, it has been shown that it takes 4¼ pounds of mixed grain to produce a pound of chicken. With grain at one cent a pound, therefore, the extra pound of flesh is developed at a cost of about five cents counting the milk that is used. This extra five cents means from two to five cents a pound more for the whole bird.

Incidentally the feeding of mixed grain to poultry provides a good market for coarse grains. In recent years grain has sold as low as 50 cents per 100 pounds at the elevators. Had this grain been fed to chickens of good type, and the chickens sold at even 10 cents per pound, 100 pounds of grain instead of bringing the farmer 50 cents at the elevator would have brought him over $2.00 per cwt. through the fat chicken route.

The place for this extra feeding is before the birds leave the hands of the producer. The lack of quality in much of Canada's dressed poultry is one reason why Canadians are comparatively small eaters of poultry, the per capita consumption being about 10 pounds as against 18 pounds in the United States. When producers are convinced that selling thin birds is false economy then better market conditions will prevail.

The death of gulls in Manitoba was reported to be due to bait used in this year's grasshopper campaign, but no evidence was found of the gulls having died of poisoning.

Canadian flour imported into Hongkong during the first six months of 1934 showed a considerable increase over the figure recorded for the corresponding period of 1933.

THE BOOK

the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," and which contains Four Great Treasures by BRUCE BARTON

"The Holy Bible"

PAUL WRITES A MESSAGE

The work was going well everywhere, even in Thessalonica! And they hoped Paul would come back! Eagerly Paul called for parchment and, with Timothy as a volunteer stenographer, he dictated a letter to send back to Thessalonica.

He told them how he had left with his two companions, but on reaching Athens had changed his mind and sent Silas and Timothy back:

Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be at Athens alone;

And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow-labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you.

It almost killed him to think that they might have forsaken their faith. But they had not; they were standing fast.

But when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you:

Therefore, brethren, we are comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

So he dictated fast as Timothy could write, and sent the letter by a messenger going north from Corinth. He put in sundry exhortations, a little doctrinal teaching and started the message forth on its eventful journey. He did not know that he had begun a new Bible. He never suspected that this impetuously composed first letter to the Thessalonicans was to be the first volume in a new sacred library. But it was; and that is the way the New Testament began.

He had to write a second letter to the Thessalonicans to answer some questions growing out of the first one. These letters were lent to nearby churches and copied and read to the congregations. Paul heard how widely they were used and so he wrote more and more. He had learned to supplement the living voice with the written page. If he were at work today he would be a regular contributor to the press.

After eighteen months in Corinth he went to Jerusalem and gave account of his second missionary journey. He had a string of new churches through Asia Minor, Macedonia and Greece. He had developed his method, and he was happy in the knowledge of a great success. He learned that in Galatia, in Asia Minor, where he had established churches, he had been followed by fundamentalists who were telling the people that Paul was not really an apostle; that he possessed no real authority; that the good news was defective because he did not teach the Mosaic law.

R. T. WRIGHT
THE VETERAN
SHOE SHOP
Next To Royal Bank
SKATES SHARPENED

The FAMILY DOCTOR

by JOHN JOSEPH GAINES M.D

A STITCH IN TIME

Well, let's see: I wonder if we have the family medicine cabinet all set, ready for the winter's severe trials that are more or less sure to come? Preparedness, you know.

You might need some 2-grain capsules of quinine in a large-mouthed bottle, duly labelled. Handy to have. Few family doctors carry quinine or castor oil . . . O, yes, see that the castor oil bottle is filled and a new clean label put on . . . And, first time you are in doctor's office, have him suggest for you a good, reliable "cold tablet" for emergency—so you can get in a dose or two while he is getting around to answer your call.

No, don't trust the glib-tongued salesman with the "perfect" cure for constipation—never! Also, shun the prescriber who is forty miles from being a physician. Ask your doctor.

Freshen up the bottle of Tincture of Iodine—write a new label for that too. . . . A small brush—and some medicine droppers are handy to have in the medicine-cabinet. You might add a small bottle, one ounce,—half filled with carbolic acid—and be absolutely sure about the label on that. A few drops in warm water to wash the accidental, lacerated wound.

Have the family doctor recommend an all-round antiseptic mouth wash and gargle, for cold, croupy nights. Stock a pint of it for home use . . . Don't forget a nice, wholesome jar of pure vaseline for applications. I always liked carbolated vaseline for antiseptic dressings. . . And yes, your "anti-constipation" tablets. Your doctor will make suggestions for you.

Get ready for winter.

VERY LATEST

by Mary Marshall

pattern 8326

Designed in Sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 44 requires 5 yards of 39 inch material with ⅝ yard contrasting for ruffle.

FOR SLIM LINES

Pattern 8326: The larger woman will delight in this smart frock with its slenderizing lines and flattering surplice closing, good for early fall and all through the winter whether it is made in silk, satin or woolen.

The revers can sport the soft ruffling as shown in the large view or it can be smartly mannish without the ruffle. The large buttons at the end of the side closing are a decorative touch. This frock is fitted in the back by means of darts, and the front of the skirt has a kick pleat at the end of the center seam. The sleeves also are interesting with the smooth fitted shoulders and wrists, and the wide flare at the elbows.

For PATTERN, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your .NAME, ADDRESS STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to Patricia Dow, (Wainwright Star) Pattern Dep't., 115 Fifth Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Rambling 'Round New York

The radio operator on many a ship has a rating equal to a second mate, but because he can come aboard ship as a full-fledged chief operator without ever having been to sea before, the crew never show him the deference of his rank, but call him "Sparks" the same way they call the carpenter "Chips."

If roofs had been stripped from New York apartments the last week of September, strange sights would have been seen. Because of the lack of new buildings, many new tenants were living in the halls of buildings while their apartments were being decorated. One couple we know of were moved during the week into four different apartments in the same building while waiting for painters to finish their penthouse on the roof.

The story is told in New York that furniture and families waited patiently on the sidewalks as long as fourteen hous when trying to get into Knickerbocker Village the new apartment development for white collar workers erected on the site of old tenements. Knickerbocker Village has a minimum of passenger elevators and no service elevators.

Free rides for 63,000 children were provided during the summer by one of New York's subways, transporting them from the slums to the parks and return.

"Ten Cents A Dance" is not only the title of a song. It's an actuality in New York. But it also costs ten cents a minute to sit out a dance with one of the dance hall hostesses." And expert testimony in court recently was presented to show that the rooms were not called "love nests", but "sitting rooms," "and that's what they were," said the witness.

When the S.S. Hamburg docked at New York the other day it carried something the captain had never seen before: a stowaway who carried baggage. He was being returned from the S.S. Deutschland, which had been bound for Germany . . . The Hamburg also brought 8,000 canaries from the Hartz mountains.

A hefty buck deer horned right through the windows of a suburban food shop near New York, recently and made free with a variety of apinach, carrots, cabbage and bananas. The police were too late to do anything about it.

When you give the people facts, they will do their own arguing and deciding.

"The FIRESIDE PHILOSOPHER"

By ALFRED BIGGS

Cheap things are dear things.

• • •

In death, the joke is on the miser.

• • •

The best legacy is a record of good deeds.

• • •

Four years at college merely begin an education.

• • •

Wealth without work rarely brings happiness.

• • •

When age censures youth it is nearly always jealous.

• • •

Lazy people at least find out how to do things with the least effort.

Health Service

OF THE

Canadian Medical Association

Edited by

GRANT FLEMING, M.D. — ASSOCIATE SECRETARY

PNEUMOTHORAX

When tuberculosis is diagnosed, what is the patient to do? The answer to this question is REST. This is what the doctor will tell him to do, because everyone will agree that in the treatment of tuberculosis, the most important point is rest, physical and mental.

In tuberculosis, the lung is diseased, and through rest the activity of the lung is diminished and so the healing forces are given a better chance to arrest the disease process, halt the progress of the dlsease, and bring about a cure.

At birth, air first enters the lungs when breathing begins. This air which is at atmospheric pressure, causes the lungs to expand, filling the chest cavity. Owing to their elasticity, the lungs tend to contract against the atmospheric pressure, and this creates a slight negative pressure or suction in the chest cavity outside the lung itself.

Between the lung and the chest wall there is the pleura, a smooth covering of two layers, the larger one of which covers the lung, and the other the inner side of the chest wall. In the act of breathing, these two coverings glide the one over the other.

Within recent years, artificial pneumothorax has been used to place a diseased lung at complete rest, in order to increase the chance of healing. This is accomplished by introducing air into the pleural cavity, the space between the two coverings or layers of pleura. The introduction of air into the pleural cavity reduces the negative pressure that is normal in that cavity and so equalizes the pressure that is exerted on the lungs from within and without. The result is that the lung collapses and is at rest.

Not all patients require pneumothorax, nor are all cases suitable for such treatment. For those cases which are selected after proper examinations and studies, there is no doubt that this form of treatment has revolutionized the outlook. The treatment must be maintained by injections of air for months and possibly years. This does not mean that any less care is to be given as regards the other points of treatment. It does mean however, that much can be done for cases that were considered hopeless; it speeds up recovery in many cases, lessens the chance of spread to the other lung, reduces sputum and so minimizes the chance of spreading the disease and, altogether, represents a great advance in the treatment of a disease which is still one of the most common and persistent enemies of mankind.

Handsome donations of vegetables have been made by a number of communities to families in the dried-out area in response to a recent appeal.

LOW Winter Excursions - FARES

to PACIFIC COAST

To Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and Prince Rupert.

Tickets on sale daily from November 15th, 1934, to February 28th, 1935.

Final return limit, April 30th, 1935.

Attractive fares also to California and Honolulu.

to EASTERN CANADA

To Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and other Eastern points, with stop-over privileges.

Tickets on sale daily from December 1st, 1934, to January 5th, 1935.

Final return limit, three months from date of sale.

to Central United States

From Manitoba (Winnipeg and West) Saskatchewan and Alberta to Des Moines, Minneapolis, Duluth, Chicago, Kansas City and certain other points. Tickets on sale daily from December 1st, 1934, to January 5th, 1935. Final return limit, three months from date of sale.

For full particulars consult Local Agent

CANADIAN NATIONAL
To Everywhere in Canada

W. 671 34

PHOTOGRAPHS
Are The Ideal
CHRISTMAS GIFTS

UNTIL NOVEMBER 17th

F - R - E - E

Colour enlargement with each order for a dozen cabinet photographs

Make your appointment now.

WE HAVE AN EXCELLENT SELECTION OF GIFTS SUITABLE FOR OLD COUNTRY MAILING

Wainwright Studio

W. CARSELL — Proprietor

MAIN STREET, WAINWRIGHT

SUNNY MAID HEALTH FOOD IS THE CHEAPEST AND BEST

Save money on flour! Exchange your wheat at the mill for Wainwright Flour, Bran, Shorts and "Sunny-Made Health Food."

SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRY

WAINWRIGHT FLOUR MILL
N. RICKER, Proprietor

PROFESSIONAL

LEGAL

J. A. MACKENZIE
Barrister, Solicitor
Notary Public
MAIN ST. WAINWRIGHT

M. G. CARDELL
BARRISTER — SOLICITOR
Notary Public, Commissioner
Money to Loan
1 Door South of the Billing Block Main St. Wainwright

F. C. DICKENS
Barrister, Solicitor
Notary Public
Office at House
FIFTH ST. W. WAINWRIGHT

DENTAL

DR. H. L. COURSIER
Dental Surgeon
Block Anesthesia
BILLING BLOCK
PHONE 2 WAINWRIGHT

Dr. E. V. Springbett
DENTAL SURGEON
Tory Building
Phone 3 — Wainwright

MEDICAL

H. C. WALLACE, M.D., C.M.
Physician and Surgeon
Post Graduate of Montreal and Liverpool
Phone 68
Wainwright Alberta

DR. GORDON MAYNES
Physician and Surgeon
Surgery and Diseases of Women
Phones 61 and 114
Office Adjoining Standard Pharmacy

CENT-A-MILE HELPS REDUCE RUNNING EXPENSES

One of the largest "cent-a-mile" excursions of the year arrived in Winnipeg on October 23rd., when the Canadian National train from Canora and Winnipegosis steamed into the Union Depot. More than seven hundred persons were on board and the scene around the station rotunda reminded officials of the busy pre-war days.

In the afternoon another crowd of several hundred arrived from the Flin Flon and Daughin territory, in addition to further heavy trains from Hodgson, Pine Falls, Beulah and Alsona. More than two thousand persons arrived in the city during the day.

Rates $1.00 Up Phone 6101
Royal George Hotel
101st Street
(Near Union Depot)
EDMONTON
FIVE STOREYS OF SOLID COMFORT
The Home of Service and Comfort
FIRST-CLASS CAFE
Cafe Owned and Operated by the hotel and will satisfy your every wish
Free Bus to and From All Trains
R. E. NOBLE Manager

Rates $1.00 Up Phone 1131
HOTEL CECIL
Cor. Jasper and 104th
EDMONTON
RIGHT IN THE HEART of the CITY'S SHOPPING CENTRE
THE HOME OF SERVICE AND COMFORT
FREE BUS MEETS ALL TRAINS

The Wainwright Star

W. J. HUNTINGFORD : : Editor and Publisher
Member Canadian Weekly Newspaper Assoc. and Alberta Press Assoc.
President—International (I.O.O.F.) Fraternal Press Association
Member of The Empire Press Union
PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING at The Star Building Main Street, Wainwright, Alberta.

Subscriptions
To Subscribers in the 40-mile radius $3.00 per year; other post office points, Canada $2.50 per year; United States, England and Foreign Countries, $3.00 per year. All strictly in advance.

Advertising Rates
Contract rates supplied on application.
Classified strayed, etc., not exceeding 25 words, 50c for first insertion three insertions for $1.00; strictly payable in advance.

Legal and Municipal Advertising 15 cents per line for first insertion and 10 cents per line for each subsequent insertion.

Transient Advtg.—Cash with Order.

All changes for Contract advertisements will be inserted till forbid and charged for accordingly.

The counts rendered monthly

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7th, 1934

OUR 26th BIRTHDAY

Full twenty-six years old today, (and still going strong) this anniversary of the birthday of the Wainwright Star finds this publication a real healthy product of Wainwright and environs.

Inaugurated with the pronounced intent and purpose of boosting for Wainwright at all times and by all legitimate methods, The Star of today is full and adequate proof that at any and all times it has exerted itself to the utmost to keep our town to the forefront throughout the Dominion, and to produce regularly each Wednesday morning a local weekly newspaper of which all residents of the district might feel justly proud, and through which medium our merchants can tell their "store story" to prospective customers.

In such endeavor we feel we have succeeded to the full, and the continued and increasing patronage which we have enjoyed in these efforts calls forth our heartiest thanks to all and sundry for their support and assistance.

Despite adverse circumstances, despite trying conditions of living, despite lack of adequate finances throughout the territory caused by the big fire, the depression etc., The Star has been able to maintain its high standard of news purveying only through the undaunted faith of the proprietor and the solid aid and support of our merchants and subscribers, and to these we again say "Thank you!" and express assurance that "The Star" will continue to prove itself as the only worth-while publicity medium of the Wainwright territory and the mouthpiece of the people resident therein and connected therewith.

A WORTHY STAND

The Canadian Legion is to be commended for its attitude in regard to the request from various quarters that owing to Remembrance Day, November 11th, falling on Sunday the following day should be observed as a public holiday.

The Legion refused to countenance in any way the observance of a holiday on Monday, November 12th, and the Federal government has also refused to declare or sanction the observance of that day as a holiday.

The legislation making November 11th in each year "Remembrance Day" was in order that that day might be a true memorial for those who laid down their lives in the Great War; not to create another holiday for amusement or recreation, and surely no day is better fitted for the proper observance of Remembrance Day than Sunday.

In Wainwright, the day is to be fittingly and correctly celebrated in the church services and so forth, and in this way the true meaning of the setting apart of November 11th will be more forcibly brought home to all.

POPPY DAY

Poignant reminder of those spacious days of glory and grieving "Poppy Day" once more recurs to prompt the citizens of this country in the duties they have inherited from the past generation. To Canadian youth in this year of grace, the deep-red petals of the Poppy may not carry the same significance they bore to the youth of sixteen years ago. The symbolism of sacrifice with which the Poppy has become charged is something to which the present generation succeeds only through the wistful memories of the aging men who fought their Country's battles, who suffered privations, endured long agonies and finally triumphed amid surroundings carpeted with Poppies.

To wear this humble emblem on Poppy Day is to proclaim that amid all the jangling confusion through which this country is striving valiantly to penetrate the heart and mind are nevertheless attuned to a sense of homage due those men whose peace inspired 600,000 Canadians to offer themselves for service between 1914 and 1918; of that number more than 60,000 found graves in France and Belgium. And it is over those graves that the Poppy blows in perennial bloom.

The numbered lead were not strangers. They were young Canadians, filled even as the youth of today is filled, with the joy of living. So also, were the 170,000 men who in 1933 bear upon their bodies the marks and scars of war—the disabled ex-service men who suffered disablement on behalf of Canada.

To manifest that proud recognition of their place in this Country, to mark that tribute which is their due, Poppy Day has been set aside in order that all may join in recalling the Great Sorrow.

The blood-red emblems distributed throughout Canada by the Canadian Legion's vast volunteer organization are the product of disabled veterans, men striving to maintain themselves in the Vetldaft Shops administered by the Dominion Government. To purchase a poppy is a small thing. For every citizen to do so is a big thing.

Let us all wear a Poppy Day.

DOMINION HEALTH GRANTS

The need for governmental assistance in the fight against disease and suffering is increased, rather than diminished, by a financial depression. In the matter of health, as in other respects, many people are, during such a period, unable to pay their own way. And private organizations, handicapped by depleted revenues, find themselves unable to give the additional assistance which the situation demands. That being the case, it is important that the necessary curtailment of governmental outlay should not extend to the health budgets of the municipality, the province or the dominion, for no national asset is more precious than good health.

Unfortunately, however, health budgets have been cut with the rest. The magazine "Health" complains that grants by the dominion to the provinces for the combating of social diseases have been dropped. Moreover, "during the last three years dominion grants to important voluntary health associations, including the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, have been discontinued for no reason which has been made public, and badly needed grants in aid of rural health have not been given as anticipated."

The fight against the so-called social diseases is a particularly important one, and "Health" points out that "the arrangement whereby the provinces contributed dollar for dollar with the dominion for the promotion of this programme was stimulating. The resultant activities across Canada have included the establishment of over a hundred clinics, and the bringing under treatment of over 400,000 persons." This is an astonishing figure—one out of every twenty-five persons in the dominion. There has been a resulting fall in disability and mortality rates which has meant "the saving of many millions of dollars to Canada."

There is, indeed, no investment which brings returns comparable to an investment in health. Instead of abandoning any part of this investment, the dominion should be taking a new lead in health matters. The question and the result should be an awakening of the federal authorities to the responsibility which is theirs.

PERSONAL JOURALISM

The city of Vancouver was recently host to members of the British Columbia and Yukon Press Association. In commenting upon the occasion, the Vancouver Sun said:

"It is a pleasure to make them welcome for these men are outstanding individuals in a journalistic group that sheds lustre on the whole profession of journalism. The editor of a metropolitan newspaper, immersed in moving world events, sometimes loses touch with the realities and verities of life. But the editor of a country weekly is rooted pleasantly and usefully in the very soil of his community. He not only gets to know events but to know men. His is a personal journalism. His a fine duty of community leadership. Thus the weekly newspaper editors are one of the most influential and benign forces in the life of this continent. The convention in Vancouver is the more notable in that British Columbia weeklies maintain a standard of journalistic efficiency that is unusually high. We are proud of our provincial papers. We are proud of the men who operate them. And we are glad to have them here."

Wainwright Grain Prices

Following are latest grain prices at the close of the market on Tuesday, November 6th, as supplied by the A.P. Grain Co.

WHEAT
1 Northern	.59
2 Northern	.55½
3 Northern	.52½
4 Northern	.45
No. 5	.41
No. 6	.41
Feed	.39½
OATS
2 C.W.	.29½
3 C.W.	.26
Ex 1 Feed	.26
No. 1 Feed	.24
BARLEY
3 C.W.	.36
4 C.W.	.32½
5 C.W.	.31½
RYE
2 C.W.	.37½
3 C.W.	.35
4 C.W.	.30½

In The Mail Bag

We are not responsible for opinions expressed by our correspondents.

RE RADIO INTERFERENCE

To The Editor:

Dear Sir:—As the best part of the radio season is approaching very rapidly it might be in order to clear up any misunderstanding that exists regarding the activities of the one amateur transmitting station in town.

To date, no complaints have been received about interference. However if it is believed that the operation of this station is detrimental to certain local reception, radio owners should not hesitate to let me know; for I will be glad to hear from them and assist to remedy the trouble.

It should be well understood, however, that screeches, whistles, "cat-calls", crashes and such-like troubles are not produced by this transmission. The whistling sometimes heard comes from old-style regenerative sets, which are now obsolete and illegal to operate in the broadcast band. No such equipment is used on the Wainwright transmitter, the only "interference" traceable to this station being the voice of the operator.

If you can pick up this station's signals (voice) at more than one spot on your dial with your machine the matter should be looked into and the trouble will be promptly cleaned up if you get in touch with me.

F. G. WRIGHT,
Wainwright License VE4DC

Whereabouts Unknown

Dear Sir:

Would you be kind enough, through the columns of your valuable paper to assist me to locate a Mr. Stuart E. Gordon Meeks, age 21 years, height 5 feet 10 inches and fair hair.

The reason for my request is that two years ago this young man saved my life from drowning in the Lac La Biche Lake, at a very great risk to his own life. It was a very cold day in January, near where ice was being cut on the lake; a distance of about four miles from the shore. I was trying to pull out a block of ice when the tongs slipped, and I fell in, and I could not get a grip on the sides. Mr. Meeks tried to pull me out, but I was very panicky, and he could not quieten me. I went down twice before he got me out of the hole which was about 12 feet square. He never got excited at all, and when he got me out he took my wet coat, mitts and cap and put his dry ones on me, and made me run as much as I could (although I wanted to lay down), to keep the circulation up, as my wet clothes were freezing. He froze his hands and ears severely while attending to me, and had it not been for his continual coaxing to keep me running I would not be alive today to thank him for what he did.

I will never be able to repay him, and I have not been able to get in touch with him, so I take this means of expressing my gratitude ; also from my mother and sister, for his heroism in the risk he took to save me. He was sick much longer than I was from the effects of it.

Mr. Meeks was well liked by everybody here, and I am sure Lloydminster district is proud to have a brave, honest young man like him for a citizen. This is the second time that he saved a life.

Mr. Editor, I thank you for printing this letter, and would request that if any of your readers know Mr. Meeks' whereabouts I would be very pleased to hear from them.

Yours Sincerely,
CHESTER HARKOTT.

CONTINUATION OF

Local Resident Loses Parent By Death

(Continued from page one)

charge and the church was filled to overflowing with sympathisers and friends to pay their last respects.

In commenting on the passing of Mrs. Dickins, the Edmonton Bulletin said in part: "Witty, gay, clever and delightful during the long years of her residence in Edmonton, Mrs. Ambrose H. Jessie Dickins was a favorite in many groups of which she was a popular member both in this city and in many others in Canada. Her death following a long and extended illness was a very great sorrow, and her passing will leave a real sense of loss in the lives of her legion of friends.

"Although she was a pioneer of Edmonton's early days in almost every sense of the word, and had long since joined the ranks of grandmothers, Mrs. Dickins remained so young in spirit, so alert to everything that happened and so keenly interested in everything about her, that the years slipped away and left little mark on her spirit. Clever as a writer, charming as a guest at any time, she was perhaps in her favorite and most lovable role when she played the part of hostess, as she did on many hundreds of occasions in her home.

There was something so sparkling and so genuinely hospitable in her attitude when she received visitors into her home, that her many little parties were a source of constant delight to those who were so fortunate as to be invited.

"For many years one of the leading members of the Edmonton Branch, the Canadian Women's Press Club, Mrs. Dickins took a keen interest in the national organization and often acted as hostess with other club members to distinguished guests who were entertained in the city by the club in years gone by. Her delightful column in an Edmonton newspaper in the happy pre-war days of the city will long be remembered with pleasure by those who were a part of the social scene at that time.

"Always a very wonderful wife and mother, Mrs. Dickins' interest centered very largely in the activities of her husband, Ambrose H. Dickins, and her two sons, Clennell (Punch) Dickins, noted flyer of Edmonton, and Francis Dickins, a lawyer, of Wainwright, and in her delightful grandchildren.

"Always interested in music, art and such organizations as the Women's Canadian Club, Mrs. Dickins took a very great part in club life, and has undoubtedly been one of the outstanding personalities of the city over a period of long time."

CONTINUATION OF

Canada Will Respect Her Glorious Dead

(Continued from page one)

defend it against all enemies." This is exactly what these brave men and women did who gave their lives for the land they loved. It is truly fitting therefore, that this day should be set apart as a memorial to them, and as an opportunity for us to salute them in reverence and gratitude.

There are set up in almost every city, town and village in Canada memorials to those heroes. Respect, and care for, these evidences of our country's gratitude all your lives, sacrifice that we might live in peace and safety.

On November 11th an Empire will stand at attention, its speech silenced, its thought centered upon the brave dead. It is inspiring to know that millions of grateful people in our vast Empire will take part in this sacred act of remembrance. Let us join them; be present at the ceremony at the Cenopath; and in the "Two Minutes Silence," listen to the spirit voices of the War dead in the great beyond as they cry:

"To you from falling hands we throw
The Torch—be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields."

AFTERMATH

"If ye break faith . . . we shall not sleep!"

Over the crimsoned field where poppies blow
A grey mist hovers like a changing wraith;
And voices bring a cry from out the mist;
"We sleep not, Comrades; do ye keep the faith?"
They gave their lives to make a better world,
Safe for the old, the helpless, and the young—
Safe for that wider brotherhood of man;
What of that victory so dearly wrung?
What is this foe with whom we keep the quarrel?
What is this conflict that we must suppress?
What but the fiol in the market-place—
The symbol of a nation's selfishness!
Is this remembering, that day by day
They who were with "them" falter to our doors—
Begging their humble stint of daily bread,—
The heroes—nay, the victims of our wares!
That day by day they toil the weary roads,
While little children starve, and women sigh;—
Our granaries o'erflow with golden grain!
"What say you, Comrades? Is the Torch held high?"
Far on Olympus, how the Gods must laugh!
"The larks still sing; the morning comes anon;"
We hear! the golden grain—and fling the chaff!
"The poppies flourish—but our rest is gone!"

Governments Liquor Control Act of Alberta.

Application for Beer License

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned intends applying to the Alberta Liquor Control Board for a License to sell Beer by the glass or open bottle, for consumption in conformity with the provisions of the Government Liquor Control Act of Alberta, and the regulations made thereunder, with respect to the following premises:

The Laurie Hotel on Main Street, Edgerton, Lots 1 and 2, Block 5, Plan 5681 A.C.

Dated at Edgerton, Alberta, this 3rd day of November, 1934.

L. J. MONTGOMERY,
28-11 Applicant

Quite a number of new car licenses have been issued since the First, owing to the continued fine weather and the 75 per cent reduction in cost for the balance of 1934 no doubt.

FUNERAL DIRECTING
And Embalming
Motor Hearse and Modern Equipment
AMBULANCE SERVICE
DAY AND NIGHT
J. C. McLEOD & SON
Phones—Day 14; Night 104
Main St., — Wainwright

SPECIAL
CHEVROLET TRUCK
REAR TIRES—NEW RADIATOR—NEW
LOTS OF HAULING LEFT
Priced at $225.00
TERMS IF NEEDED
SPECIAL

GENERAL MOTORS & EVEREADY
ANTI FREEZE, per gal. $1.40 to $3.95
Car Heaters, from $10.00
Electrical Radio Set, ... $20.00
"B" BATTERIES $3.95
SEE THE STANDARD CHEV. COACH
LOWEST PRICED CAR IN WAINWRIGHT
$886.00 Delivered
Brunker's Service Stat.

INSURANCE
We handle Fire, Automobile, Sickness and accident, Burglary, Hold-up and every other kind of insurance except Life. We represent Strong Reliable Companies
Fires are more prevalent in the fall. ;
Your business promptly attended to.
JOS. WELCH
Agent for Strong Companies — Prompt and Fair Adjustments
Agent for Western Savings and Loan Co.
Bonded Issuer of Licence Plates for Previncial Government
Phone 57 & 93 Agent Atlas Lbr. Co. Ltd.

The Greatest Need
AGRICULTURE'S GREATEST NEED IS SOLIDARITY IN ITS RANKS.
All grain growers can unite around
ALBERTA POOL ELEVATORS

In Church and Lodge Circles

St. Thomas' Church

(Anglican)

SERVICES

8 a.m.—Holy Communion each Sunday.
11 a.m.—Choral Communion, alternate Sundays.
10 a.m.—Sunday School.
7:30 p.m.—Evening Prayer.

Baptisms, Weddings and Funerals by Arrangement with Chas. N. Bateman (vicar).

United Church of Canada

Rev T. Edgar Armstrong, B.A., B.D. Minister

11.30 a.m. —Public Worship
12.00 noon—Sunday School
7:30 p.m.—Public worship.
First Sunday—
3.00 p.m.—Grangedale
Third Sunday—
3.00 p.m.—Mascot
Second and Fourth Sundays—
10:00 a.m.—Fabyan,
3:00 p.m.—Greenshields.

We invite you to worship. Come and follow in thought what Jesus did to bring life to men.

Blessed Sacrament Church

Rev. Hugo Doyle, P.P.
Rev. J. McGrane, asst.

11 a.m.—Wainwright.

Presbyterian Church

Rev. W. S. Brooker, Minister

WAINWRIGHT ALBERTA

Regular Lord's Day service every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock also in the evening at 7.30. Prayer service every Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

12:15—Sunday School Classes, for all ages.

ALL ARE WELCOME.

I.O.O.F.

WAINWRIGHT LODGE

No. 45

Meets every Monday Night at EIGHT P.M., in I.O.O.F. Hall, Third Avenue, Wainwright.
Visiting Brethren Always Welcome

L. Mitchell, N.G.
T. Lissimore, R.S.
A. Sawers, F.S.

Adeline Rebekah Lodge

No. 54
I. O. O. F.

Meets First and Third Thursdays of Each Month in I.O.O.F. Hall on Third Avenue.

Miss M. Frosser, N.G.
Miss B. Love, R.S.
Mrs. M. Morris, F.S.

A cordial welcome is extended to All Members of the Degree when visiting in Town.

Heath Gospel Mission

Sunday School for all each Sunday at 2 p.m.

Regular Gospel service each Sunday at 3 p.m.

Lively Young People's service every Friday at 8 p.m.

§ SYDENHAM §

Miss M. Sinclair spent the week end with Miss E. Love.

Mrs. G. Carl spent a few days with Mrs. T. Cooper.

Mr. J. Ruste and Mrs. Baltario are visiting their brother at Vancouver, who is quite sick. We wish the patient a speedy recovery.

Mrs. G. Stadshaug spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. Ruste.

Taking advantage of such nice fall weather the farmers of our district are still busy working on the land.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McKay are leaving the farm to live in the W. D. McKay house in town. Mr. Roy Goodkey will take over the farm for the present.

Mrs. C. Alexander entertained Mrs. G. Carl on Thursday.

Mr. J. Baker and Mr. Reynolds have been busy fixing the well at the school.

Mr. G. Carl is working for a few weeks at the farm of S. Cooper.

The Sydenham boys are forming a "home scout" group under patrol leader, Ian Glenn; Allen Glenn is acting as supervisor.

The Sydenham Pathfinders entertained their mothers and friends on Friday afternoon last. A very enjoyable time was spent by all and a delightful lunch served before dispersing.

§ HOPE VALLEY §

The large crowd that attended the dance sponsored by the Maple Leaf club at Rosedale, Friday, November 2nd, seemed to have a good time.

Mr. W. Roach and Mr. H. Pugh have both installed new radios this last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Taylor and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Neil of Earlie on Sunday.

The Sports club are putting on a pie social in the school on Friday, November 10th—don't forget the date.

AMONG THE OLD-TIMER

"REMINDERS OF OTHER DAYS"

TEN YEARS AGO

The P. Burns poultry buyer was a very busy man last Monday buying and selling poultry. Fred Harrington bought over seven thousand pounds of poultry and good prices ruled.

A very large umber of the younger generation gathered at the home of Mrs. Dr. Middlemass on Friday evening to enjoy a Hallowe'en party.

Messrs. J. H. Fraser and S. Nelson were here from the University of Alberta to spend the holiday with their respective parents.

Mr. J. C. McLeod arrived home from Cheboyagan, Michigan, last week end after a holiday there.

§ SADDLE HILL §

Mrs. Frank Redmond gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Jean McCormick who is to be married in the near future. Two little girls in the persons of Joey Gilbert and Lou Redmond presented the gifts in a nicely decorated basket, and Mrs. Warnock read an address. A pleasant time was spent and at 5.30 everyone wished the bride elect a long and prosperous life. This was followed by a dainty lunch served by four young ladies of the district.

Mr. Russell Love will give an address at the Sligo School on Tuesday, November 6.

§ HEATH §

A Chicken Supper will be held at the home of Mr. Jim Ford on Friday evening under the auspices of the St. Patrick's W.A.. A program will follow the supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Patterson and family and Miss Velma Ford motored to Vermilion for the week end.

A meeting will be held at the home of Henry Touchette on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of discussing arrangements for the local people to take over No. 13 telephone line.

The moving picture entitled "My Boy" starring Jackie Coogan is to be shown at Arm Lake school on Friday evening, November 14th. The picture show will be followed by a dance.

Lakes surrounding Heath are freezing over and many of the young folks have visions of skating in the near future.

§ ASCOT §

The Ascot Telephone Co. organized having eight subscribers with J. T. Alexander as President and Mr. Oliver Hutchison as Secretary. All boxes will be in this week.

A children's party was held in the school last week to celebrate Hallowe'en.

Mr. Jack McQuaker has gone on a hunting trip north, with a party from Edgerton.

The Ascot school pupils extend their sympathy to Bobbie Knox who was operated on Thursday for appendicitis.

We are glad to hear that Miss Ella Ebbern is improving nicely in an Edmonton hospital.

§ SLIGO §

Saturday afternoon a number of the ladies and young girls of the district gathered at the home of Mrs. Frank Redmond for the purpose of surprising Miss Jean McCormack and offering their best wishes for her happiness in the future. Jean, who is to be a bride this month, has lived in this district for many years. During the afternoon there was music, singing, contests and charades. Mrs. Warnock made a little speech wishing Jean all the best and asking her to accept the presents in the tub which was decorated in pale green and white had been carried in by Lou Redmond and Joey Gilbert. After opening the many useful and pretty gifts, Jean thanked everyone and invited them to come to see her as soon as she is settled in her new home. The hostess then served lunch.

The dance at Rosedale on November 2nd, was a great success. It was put on by the Maple Leaf Club and a large crowd enjoyed a good time.

Misses Ruth Pawsey and Joyce Reynolds exchanged visits last week.

Don't forget to keep November 16 open for the annual concert and dance of the Sunnyvale U.F.A. at Rosedale hall. The Junior U.F.A. handicraft will be displayed that night. Admission for concert, adults 25c; children 10c; admission for dance, gents 25c.

Everyone joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Knott the best of luck and happiness in the future.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dr. Middlemass has returned here from Amisk where he has completed his duties and he plans to remain here permanently.

While lighting a gasoline lamp at his home one day last week W. W. Yeager locomotive fireman had the misfortune to burn himself quite badly.

Two gentlemen who attended the church of England last week were so impressed with the service that one donated a new set of hymnals and the other donated a new carpet to be placed through the length of the center aisle.

Mrs. R. A. Snyder and child, Kirk, returned here last week from a month's visit to Strathmore, Alberta.

A debate was held in the school on Friday. The leader of the affirmative was Peter Milne with Harry King as his supporter while the leader and supporter of the negative were respectively Miss Helen Limpert and Miss Helen Mitchell. Dr. McQueen and Dr. Little were judges, and the boys won; by gosh!

§ GREENSHIELDS §

Mr. A. Johnson of Chauvin spent Sunday at the home of E. Jackson.

Mr. L. Bean is visiting Mrs. George Smith.

Mr. Charlie Hutchison spent the week end in Edmonton.

Last week saw Lloyd Haynes leave for Vermilion to attend the school of agriculture at that point.

Mrs. F. Cowan of Biggar is visiting friends in this district.

The community extends congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. F. Birtles.

The Bean Supper, which was sponsored by the Ladies Aid was a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Carl and family spent Friday evening visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Murray.

USEFUL HEDGE QUICKLY FORMS WINDBREAK

Caragana Seed Sent Free on Application

The last few dry, windy years have convinced farmers in Central Alberta of the necessity of growing shelter belts for the protection of their homes and, in some cases, to keep their farms at home. There are several varieties of trees and shrubs suitable for this purpose, but the most satisfactory of all is caragana.

Owing to its extreme hardiness, density of growth and ability to withstand long periods of drought, caragana is admirably suited for the purpose of forming windbreaks for crop protection. When left to grow naturally it will attain a height of from fifteen to eighteen feet. As a hedge one foot high will protect a field from the wind for fifty feet, a fifteen-foot hedge will protect a seven hundred to eight hundred foot strip of crop. A shelter belt is also a necessity for the growing of a good farm garden.

A great many farmers who would like to plant hedges have not done so because of the expense involved. In order that all who desire to plant windbreaks may do so without encountering financial difficulties, the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, will supply applicants with instructions for growing and any reasonable amount of seed, from two pounds up, on receipt of the request accompanied by stamps to cover postage or express charges. Two pounds of seed require fifteen cents postage, and will seed approximately 3000 feet of drill. Carrying charges on larger amounts of seed may be ascertained at the local post office or express office. The length in feet of the desired hedge, divided by 1500, will give the number of pounds of seed required.

CONTINUATION OF

Teacher's Convention

(Continued from page one)

val; address by representative of A.T.A.

Afternoon Session—Address "Music in the Schools" by Mr. Vernon Barford, A.R.C.C.; address by Dr. R. C. Wallace, Pres. University of Alberta.

An evening session, commencing at 8 p.m. will take the form of a public meeting, when Dr. Wallace and others will address the gathering.

FRIDAY

In The Wainwright School

Morning Session—(Senior Section) Chairman, Mr. J. R. Hemphill, Pearson S. D.; "History, Grade IX." Mr. J. Mulholland, Willow Glen S.D.; "Intelligence Tests," Mr. Johnn Overbo, B.A., Lake Vernon S.D.; "Home Work, Its Justification and Amount," Miss E. Bullock, McCafferty S.D. and Miss C. Ranks, Wainwright S.D.; Round Table Conference.

(Junior Section)—Chairman, Miss E. A. Love, Wainwright S.D.; "Citizenship in Junior Grades," Miss M. M. Dixon, Pansy S.D.; "Number Highways," Mr. H. W. Burpee, Forsyth S.D.; "Reading for Beginners, and Allied Sentwork," Mrs. E. A. Smith, Hardisty S.D.; Round Table Conference.

Afternoon Session—Business meeting: (a) Report of Resolution Committee; (b) Report of Nomination Committee; (c) Election of Officers.

Attendance certificates will be distributed at 3 p.m.

Interior Dept Issues Brochure on "Game"

Honourable Thomas G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, reports that this year there has been more than usual interest in Canada's hunting attractions, indicating that the charm of our autumn season and the benefit and enjoyment to be derived from a hunting trip in the Dominion are becoming more widely known. In order to meet the growing number of requests for information on this subject of a publication bearing the title, "Canada's Game Fields," was issued by the Department of the Interior some time ago but so great has been the demand for this new booklet that the original edition was soon exhausted and a reprint was found necessary and has been published recently. Fish and game clubs, railway passenger agents, and travel bureaux, in nearly every part of the United States, in all numbering 2,415, were supplied with copies for prospective visitors.

This publication which is distributed by the National Parks Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, draws attention to the Dominion's unrivalled opporunities for game hunting. In Canada as in other countries, the advance of settlement has had its effect on wild life, but through sane conservation methods the Dominion ranks today as a leading big game country of the world. In the foreword to pamphlet a welcome is extended to sportsmen from other lands.

Among the fast trains of the world is the International Limited, between Montreal and Toronto, making over fifty-one miles an hour. An English train makes over seventy-one miles.

White Figures On Red Ground New Auto Plates

The colors for the 1935 auto license plates will be the same as at present in use with the distinction that they have been reversed, the new ones bearing the figures in white on a bright red ground. This announcement has been made by Mr. E. Trowbridge, the deputy provincial secretary, and one can get the idea by noting the 1934 plates for Saskatchewan. British Columbia also reversed their colors for next year having chosen blue figures on white, while Saskatchewan cars next year will wear black plates with white numerals.

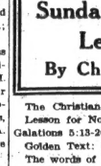

Chain stores do a large proportion of the retail trade in Canada. In 1930 there were 210 organizations with 11,869 stores, doing some twenty-five per cent. of the business.

Sunday School Lesson

By Chas. Dunn

The Christian Citizen.
Lesson for November 11th.
Galations 5:13-26.
Golden Text: Matthew 26:52.

The words of Jesus chosen for our Golden Text, "All they that take the sword shall perish with the sword," is an admirable theme for Armistice Day. Every nation that entered the World War took it so far as freedom and economic security are concerned Europe is seething with terror and unrest. The seeds there of another first class cataclysm are sprouting. And as to the direct result of the war and its aftermath the United States is in the throes of the worst depression she has ever known. Moreover huge debts are owing to her which will never be paid.

In this alarming crisis what is the Christian citizen to do? One fertile suggestion has been made by President Palmer, of the Chicago Theological Seminary. His proposal is that millions of people, the Christian church leading the way, sign the following non-aggression agreement, "I will never cross the boundary of another nation to kill or destroy nor will I support my government in doing so." Such a personal non-invasion pledge might go far in preventing another international holocaust.

But such a gesture, fine as it is, is too negative. What we need most of all is a positive strategy. We shall never advance very far in our quest for permanent peace until we strengthen mightily all those organizations working realistically for the triumph of common sense in the conduct of world affairs. One of these is the World Court. Another is the League of Nations, mankind's greatest step forward. It is one of the absurdities of history that our country is not yet a member of either the Court or the League.

If Christian citizens do not place themselves behind a positive peace movement of aggressive power they deserve well-merited rebuke. The Church must repudiate war.

An Essay Will Win Trip To Australia

TORONTO—Mr. L. R. Macgregor, Australian Trade Commissioner in Canada, is actively engaged on a project which has turned thousands of Canadian boys and girls to a study of their sister Dominion. The Commonwealth of Australia is offering a free trip to that country and return for the best essay written about it by a Canadian student not more than eighteen years of age, and in addition a money prize of £10 for the best production in each of the nine provinces.

It is stipulated that the essays must be of approximately 2,500 words, and may be written in either French or English under the supervision of instructors. At least twenty essays must be submitted by any high school or equivalent institution participating in the contest. There will be provincial adjudications to select the four best from each province, and a central committee will choose from among them the girl or boy for the major prize.

Mr. Macgregor is making a tour of Canada to visit all the principal centers in connection with the contest, which is arousing wide interest. Essays are to be handed in by December 15, and the winner will be selected early in the new year.

§ LOCAL NOTES §

Mr. T. Lissimore was a visitor to the city on business for a couple of days.

• • •

Mrs. E. Turner and her son Ed. made a trip to the city at the week end on business.

• • •

It seemed like a just retribution last week when the School Principal installed the boy culprits from the school and let them cleaning the store windows which the youngsters had so vigorously "soaped" as a Hallowe'en prank on the previous evening. Kind of a double celebration for the lads!

• • •

It is understood that the three-day caucus which was held by the U.F.A. members in the government building last week was for the purpose of completing arrangements for an early session of the provincial house and other things!

• • •

Having completed an enjoyable holiday with friends at Senlac, Mrs. Ford returned home on Friday last.

• • •

Great excitement prevailed throughout some 38 states to the south yesterday (Tuesday) when they went to the polls for the election of representatives. The liquor question was also on the ballot paper in seven of these states, too.

• • •

A real Hallowe'en treat was given the pupils of Plaxtol school by the teacher, Miss Adele Irving, on Thursday last, when the abundance of goodies supplied was fully appreciated by the youngsters.

• • •

Misses Bessie Welch and Margaret Brown, of Big Valley, and Grace Welch, of Thorhild, will be home to visit their parents here for the week end, after attending the convention of high school teachers at their respective centres.

• • •

Messrs. Chris. Foster, formerly of the Merchant's Bank staff here, and C. V. Weir, both of Lougheed, were in town on Saturday evening last, paying a hurried visit to friends in this locality.

• • •

The Buffalo Rangers hockey club, a new aggregation in town are arranging to stage an inauguration dance in the Elite on Friday, November 16. The tickets are now available for this event.

• • •

Roy Carl has been employed at the Atlas yard for the past week to catch up with the rush of orders owing to the amount of building and improving being undertaken these days.

• • •

We regret to learn that Mr. Ed Lawrence, of Hope Valley is suffering so badly from the effects of a severe cold that he had to be brought to the hospital.

• • •

We regret to report that on Monday evening Mrs. Geo. Goodale had the misfortune to receive injuries from a fall. An x-ray shows that the patient suffers a dislocation of the bones of her shoulder and arm, and we extend hopes for her speedy relief.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. J. Barnelis and their daughter Denise, and Miss A. Irving spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. Croteau.

SWINE CLUB

Feeding & Judging Competition

STOCK YARDS, WAINWRIGHT; TUES., NOVEMBER 20th, 1934

All hogs for competition MUST be in the yards by 11 a.m., when Mr. Andrews, of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, and a Government Hog Grader from Edmonton, will be in attendance.

Suitable CASH PRIZES will be awarded in the Club Competition and in addition, Mr. J. W. Stuart will give a $5 prize to the person marketing the three best hogs on that day.

A meeting of all interested will be held in the Town Hall at the close of the judging, and all are cordially invited.

For further particulars call or see

GEO. CLARK, Sec. Swine Club
J. W. STUART, Sec. Agric. Soc.

Among the most nourishing beverages, properly brewed Beer ranks with the highest

There are no Better Beers than those made in Alberta.

DISTRIBUTORS Ltd.

Agents for the Brewing Industry of Alberta

NEAREST WAREHOUSE — HOLDEN

This advertisement is not inserted by the Alberta Liquor Control Board or by the Govt. of the Province of Alberta

Lightly

by MARGARET E. SANGSTER

Synopsis

"Prelude" . . . "Love Lightly." Mrs. Church warned gently, and Ellen wondered why? Posing for her talented mother first as a new baby then a bubbling child, then a charming young girl, Ellen had lived always in a make-believe land of beauty. Of the outside world her knowledge was meager . . . While posing in the garden one day, Ellen now 17 learns from her mother the story of the broken marriage. . . . Then years of loneliness. As the mother waited for her husband, to share with him the secret of Ellen's coming, a message came, saying he would never return. So through the years Ellen and her mother lived alone . . . A few weeks after learning the story of the mother's broken life. . . . another message arrives . . . tragedy, telling of the father's death. The shock killed Mrs. Church. Bewildered . . . alone . . . warned to "Love Lightly" Ellen arrives in New York . . . NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"And so," said Ellen, "little Goldilocks came to the big city. Or perhaps I should say Little Red Riding Hood. As I remember it, I did wear a red beret! With just exactly twenty dollars in the pocket of the old tweed coat—but with all of my bills paid, and the homestead still unmortgaged. You didn't know, did you, that I am a landowner? That I, whose knees shall be known to posterity, am the possessor of an estate."

Even at twenty Ellen couldn't quite control the sudden tremor in her voice.

The man with the Vandyke beard reached, through the cloud of his pipe smoke, for her hand—which Ellen carefully removed from his vicinity. He shrugged, and reached instead for the glass that stood at his elbow.

"For such a red hot, red capped little person," he said "you're startlingly chill! Know that, Ellen? A," he laughed, quite alone, at his pun, "a Church—and why should a church need fortifications?—with battlements and moats and a drawbridge!"

One of the two other girls was speaking.

"Shut up, Sandy," she said. "You're just about as funny as a wake! Say, Ellen," her voice was shrill, "why don't you throw a party up at your place, some weekend? The crowd of us could make perfectly swell whoopee."

If a shadow crept across the carefully rouged little face of Ellen Church, she veiled that shadow with a slim, raised hand. Her answer came with almost too much nonchalance.

"I haven't been near the place," she said, "since I turned the key in the lock and went out into the storm, with neither a wedding ring nor a baby. I'd have to have considerable of a weekend—and I mean my head to take you all up there. Why," even at twenty Ellen couldn't quite control the sudden tremor in her voice, "Why, the place is full of ghosts"

The man with the Vandyke beard puffed away in silence for a moment. "You were telling your life story," he reminded Ellen, at last. "Not that it's such a whale of a story, at that. There hasn't been a starvation, or a temptation, or a ruination, yet."

"And," the tremor had quite gone from Ellen's voice, "there won't be either. Not while the old brain sits firmly just above the well-known shoulders. Well, to make a short story long, I got in touch with the only soul I knew, believe it or not in New York. A person who had sold my mother's work. Sort of an art agent, you understand. Mother—she did all of her selling second hand, she wouldn't see art editors herself.

"Make yourself at home," he told Ellen.

You have to be pretty swell," there was a note of pride, a defensive sort of pride, in Ellen's voice, "to sell that stuff that way! But anyhow," the pride was gone from her voice, now, "anyhow, I went to this agent and asked her advice. And she tried to help. 'Perhaps you'd better be an artist' she said. 'It's in your blood.' 'But it's left out of my fingers,' I told her. 'Well, what can you do?' she asked me. And I said, 'I'm a regular wow at posing.,"

A man without a beard and for that reason some years older than the Vandyked one, spoke.

"And so you are!" he told Ellen. "I never knew anyone who could catch an idea the way you do. I wish to heaven I could keep you busy all the time. Not that I wouldn't be afraid to have you in the studio all the time—"

Ellen shrugged.

"I don't eat artists," she said, "not even raw ones like Sandy, here; not even good ones like you."

One of the girls laughed. It was a sharp laugh, rather.

"I'm not so sure of that," she told Ellen. "I'd say, for all your wide eyes and your raised eyebrows, that you were a regular manester. You have a come-on game—"

"That," interrupted the man called Sandy, "that doesn't come anywhere! Ellen's come-on game somehow always fails to arrive."

Ellen laughed over so slightly, and surveyed her guests through the low hanging haze of their tobacco smoke. The two girls? They—she admitted it, in her mind—weren't important. Just models like herself. With stagey names behind which they hid their own commonplace labels. Gay Vardon—the shorter one, with the angelic face framed in red hair. She was in demand for magazine covers, Gay. Her innocent eyes were a guarantee on any periodical of its faith with the public. Claire Tremaine—the tall, willowy one, who posed for fashion work. Who with her boneless and curveless figure was just a little passe in this new age of fashion elegance.

They weren't of much importance, these two. Just white of egg, beaten to a stiff froth. Not a great deal of substance, or nourishment, there!

Sandy Mackintosh? Somehow, although his work sold readily, although he had a real flair for expression, he belonged with the two girls, Ellen told herself. His essays at love-making always bordered on the comic for her. He was always ready to put her into one of his careless charming illustrations, however, always ready to buy her a dinner at some place where the food was good, and the lights were low, and there was wine for the asking.

The older man, Dick Alven? He wasn't a lightweight! He didn't depend upon charm to put his drawings over. He didn't even care, always, that his paintings would interest dealers—rather than sell them! Ellen, her gaze creeping about the room, felt a thrill of affection as her eyes rested upon his face. For it was to Dick that she had first gone, quite by chance, in her quest for work. A slim, frightened child, in a scarlet cap and an unfashionable topcoat, she had come knocking at his studio door. And he, with curiosity written in every line of his face, had let her into the square, somber room in which he painted.

"So you want to pose?" he had questioned. "I fancy, from your looks, that you've just run away from school, with an old copy of 'The Common Law' tucked into your pocket. Well, I do need a model. But you'll find it hard, unromantic work!"

Ellen answered haughtily, to cover the shiver in her heart, the quake in her soul.

"I've posed all my life," she told him. "I know it's not easy. But I'm used to it."

Dick Alven's practiced, oddly personal yet oddly impersonal gaze had run the length of her slender body. He sighed.

"You're just a kid," he told her. Do you pose for the figure?"

Ellen felt the blood mounting into her cheeks, pounding into her temples. But she answered with a certain doggedness.

"I have, of course, posed that way," she said. "I can, if there's no other work to be had. But I'd rather—not!"

Dick Alven had laughed. "I thought that would scare you out," he said. "I'd know you for an amateur any day. Who've you posed for—you little bluffer?"

Ellen's head was high. The blood had receded from her cheeks.

"I posed for Mrs. Church," she said. "You must have seen her work. She specialized in drawings of children. Of young girls. She," Ellen's lips all at once were quivering; all at once the tears stood, roundly, in her eyes, "she was my mother."

Dick Alven, with a certain mute astonishment, had watched the tears spill over on to the pale cheeks. He had given himself a little shake, and had closed the studio door.

"Make yourself at home," he told Ellen. "I've an order for a sort of Kate Greenway mural, to dress up a half-baked, junior league inspired children's theatre. I can use you plenty."

And so Ellen entered the studio, and buttoned herself into a high waisted, blue-sashed muslin dress, and started out upon her career as a professional model. It was as easy as that! Under Dick's tutelage, which almost amounted to chaperonage, she met other artists, secured other work.

It was getting late. The cigarette smoke was rising toward the ceiling of the room. As soon as the bunch left, Ellen thought she would fling up the windows—and make the room sweet again.

"I think," she called now to the corner in which Gay and Sandy were sitting, very close, "that you'd better clear out. I'm working tomorrow and I'm starting early."

Sandy eyed her reproachfully.

"Women," he said, "they're all alike. Just puppies in mangers. Ellen won't let touch her hand. But the moment I speak of consolation in Gay, she thows me out. Jealous cat, I call her!"

Claire rose lithely from her place on the cushioned day bed. She stretched as a slim, lazy panther stretches. Nobody had been making love to Claire.

"I'm ready to blow," she said. "This party hasn't been what you'd call a wow for excitement. The story of Ellen's past is too blameless to make what might be known as a hectic evening. See me home, Dick?" there was a slightly eager note in her drawling voice. "You go my way?"

But Dick, slowly, was shaking his head.

"I'm staying on here, for a bit, after the rest of you leave," he told her. "I want to talk with Ellen. I'm the guy she's working for tomorrow. We're starting on that Indian thing—and I want to talk to her about costumes."

Sandy, rising, had dragged the diminutive Gay to her feet.

"We'll drop you at your shanty, Claire," he said. "That is, if you're really afraid to venture out alone on the sidewalks of New York!"

Claire shrugged.

"I'd suspect you, Ellen," she said, as she pulled the season's smartest hat over her beautifully arranged hair, "only its hard to suspect anyone with milk—frozen milk—in her veins! I don't doubt," there was a queer note of almost envy in her voice, "that you and Dick will really talk about costumes."

Ellen tried, very hard, to copy the spirit of Claire's shrug.

"Be that," she said, "as it may!"

Then they were gone, the three of them. Clattering down the uncarpeted stairs. Sandy laughing—Gay's shrill giggle echoing his mirth.

"They're laughing about me," Ellen told Dick, and her tone was tranquil. "They think I'm something from another planet. That I have six toes on each foot, and they're webbed. You tell 'em different, Dick. You've seen my feet—"

But Dick was staring at her strangely, through the drifting smoke, most of which he was now creating, himself.

"Sandy may laugh at you," he said, "but he's in love with you, Ellen."

Ellen, again, attempted the shrug. It was more of a success this time.

"Oh—love!" she said. Just that.

Dick went on.

"So," he said evenly, "am I, for that matter! I love you, Ellen, you know. Foolish, isn't it?"

"Yes, it is rather," she said. "Because I have reason to suppose, Dick that love would stand for marriage, with you. You're that sort, Sandy? Possibly he isn't. But—well, what would marriage with you mean Dick? Figure it out, from my point of view. Only a new name, and a wedding ring. I'd work just as hard as I'm working now. I'd have the deuce of a lot more to worry about—babies, for instance. And I wouldn't have lots of things that I have now, either."

Dick's voice rasped just a little. It was a very nice voice when it didn't have that grating note.

"What, for instance?" he questioned.

"Privacy, for instance!" Ellen answered, trying to make her tone flippant.

Dick was rising from his chair. His tall figure, despite his breadth of shoulder, gave the effect of gauntness. He came swiftly across the room and laid his hands, not too lightly, on Ellen's shoulders.

(Continued next week)

"WAINWRIGHT STAR" OFFERS YOU

A Great Subscription Bargain that means . .

MONEY IN YOUR MAILBOX

Here is a real offer that will save you money . . . Give yourself and your family lasting enjoyment and entertainment the whole year through . . . This is all you have to do.

Select any 3 of these famous Magazines

Together with your local Newspaper and you will receive the whole 4 publications for one year from the date we receive the coupon. Here is the amazing combination low price.

$3.00

- ☐ Maclean's (24 issues) 1 yr.
- ☐ Chatelaine 1 yr.
- ☐ Canadian 1 yr.
- ☐ National Home Monthly 1 yr.
- ☐ Pictorial Review 1 yr.
- ☐ Canadian Horticulture and Home Magazine ... 1yr.

Our Guarantee to You!

This wonderful offer is available to old and new subscribers to this newspaper. We guarantee the fulfillment of all magazine subscriptions and you have positive assurance that this generous offer is exactly as represented. Renewals will be extended for full term shown.

MAIL COUPON TODAY →

Please clip list of Magazines after checking 3 Publications desired. Fill out coupon carefully.

Gentlemen: I enclose $ Please send me the three magazines checked with a year's subscription to your newspaper.

NAME

STREET OR R.F.D.

TOWN AND PROVINCE

Choose any THREE of the above National Magazines and send coupon with $3.00 to "The Star" office. Each of your choice AND "THE STAR" will come to you regularly for one year. Subscribers who are paid in advance will have their labels advanced for one year.

HERE IT IS! SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

Hints for the Household

Conducted By Betty Barclay

TRANSFORM AN OLD FAVORITE WITH CHOCOLATE FLAVOR

Every housewife knows that old-fashioned bread pudding, when it is carefully made, can be delicious. But bread pudding can be supremely delicious when to its old-fashioned goodness is added chocolate.

A chocolate bread pudding, served with whipped cream or hard sauce, becomes a dessert that is sure of an encore from every members of the family. Try it—see for yourself.

Chocolate Bread Pudding

1½ squares unsweetened chocolate
3 cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cubed stale bread.

Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, stir until blended. Combine eggs, sugar, and salt; add chocolate mixture gradually, stirring vigorously. Add vanilla. Place bread in greased baking dish; pour mixture over it and let stand 10 minutes; then mix well before baking. Place dish in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 60 minutes, or until pudding is firm. Serve hot with hard sauce, or cold with cream. Serves 6.

Novel Ginger Pudding

1 tablet for making junket
1 pint milk
1 tablespoon cold water
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon lemon flavoring
½ cup whipping cream
Ginger cookies

Break a small ginger cookie (or leftover cake) into each dessert dish. Dissolve tablet for making junket in 1 tablespoon cold water. Add sugar to milk, also lemon flavoring. Warm to luke warm (110 degrees F.)—not hot, and remove from stove. Add dissolved tablet for making junket. Stir a few seconds, and pour at once over ginger cookies. Chill in refrigerator. Serve with whipped cream and a bit of grated preserved ginger.

Fruit Caramels

Put through food chopper:
1 cup figs
1 cup seeded raisins
1 cup stoned dates
1 cup walnut meat
1 tablespoon candied orange peel

Moisten with:
2 to 4 tablespoons orange juice until or right consistency to make into small balls. Roll in powdered sugar.

Canada was the largest supplier of fertilizers to Southern Rhodesia in 1933 and she was also the third principal supplier of foodstuffs during the same period.

People often weigh themselves on machines into which they drop a cent. In the United States more than one billion cents are put into these scales in a year.

SNAP SUPERFINE POWDER

CLEANS and POLISHES WINDOWS, MIRRORS, BATH TUBS and WASH BASINS. CANNOT SCRATCH

55¢

MELBA

Cleansing Cream

Within this jar women the world over have found the basic secret of thrilling beauty, a skin made clean to the depths of each tiny pore. Use it nightly for a month and see how it penetrates, flushes and leaves the skin soft and lovely.

PARFUMERIE MELBA OF CANADA, LTD . . . TORONTO

LESS THAN 1¢ WORTH IN A CAKE

MAGIC

JUST THINK—it takes less than 1¢ worth of Magic Baking Powder to make a delicious three-layer cake! And Magic is always dependable—gives the same perfect results—every time. No wonder Canada's leading cookery experts say it doesn't pay to take chances with inferior baking powder. Bake with Magic and be sure!

MADE IN CANADA

"CONTAINS NO ALUM." This statement on every tin is your guarantee that Magic Baking Powder is free from alum or any harmful ingredient.

Faster Way Found to Relieve Headaches

NOW PAIN OFTEN RELIEVED IN MINUTES!

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Demand and get the method doctors prescribe—Aspirin.

Millions have found that Aspirin eases even a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain often in a few minutes!

In the stomach as in the glass here, an Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve, or disintegrate, almost the instant it touches moisture. It begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it.

Equally important, Aspirin is safe. For scientific tests show this: Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Remember these two points: Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet.

Get tin of 12 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 at any druggist's

Why Aspirin Works So Fast

Drop an Aspirin tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches the bottom, it is disintegrating.

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH An Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work.

What happens in these glasses happens in your stomach—ASPIRIN tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

When in Pain Remember These Pictures

— ASPIRIN DOES NOT HARM THE HEART —

Advertising Is Good For Us!

That dusty picture of an optimist and a pessimist—the optimist seeing the doughnut and the pessimist the hole—is just a way of describing most of us: some of us habitually look on the bright side of things; others of us on the dark side. Always there are those who have a melancholy pleasure in fault-finding. And so there are always those who look upon advertising as an economic waste and a means by which the sale of inferior merchandise can be promoted. It is quite possible to say wrong things about advertising—just as it is possible to find wrong things about water and air, about books and speeches, about motor cars and aeroplanes, about schools and churches, about Canadians and Scotsmen, about knives and forks, and so on!

Advertising is news and information, and who shall say that it is wrong to communicate news and information? It would be a pretty dull world, full of dull people, if there ceased to be a dissemination of news and information.

In all ages and in all countries those giving out news and information have attracted to themselves attentive audiences; and this is as true today as it was 1000 or 2000 years ago.

What stores are busiest? Is it not those stores which give out most information about what they have to sell? The public is daily spending money—probably $2 a day for every man, woman and child in the trading area covered by the circulation of our newspaper—or, say, $2000 for every 1000 persons. So you can calculate for yourself — you, a retailer, what is spent daily in our own community for food and shelter and clothing, and for all the other things.

And of course, to obtain best value for the money spent advertise in the

Wainwright Star

Speakeasy Gives It's Up Secret

Condensed from The New Yorker by Morris Markey

A few days ago I went by New York's famous "21" for luncheon—21 West 52nd Street. Jack and Charlie's. Jack came over to the table, and we got to talking about prohibition days, how rapidly they have faded into a dim memory, and I asked him how they used to work it: what they had to pay for protection, and the general technique of staying in an illegal business for ten years.

"We had to decide at the start," Jack explained, "whether to run a real secret place, or run pretty wide open, and pay off the prohibition people whenever they called around.

"Well, we decided that the secret place would be a better proposition in the end. Never let them get the goods on us and then crowd around for the hush money. Of course we were willing to let go a reasonable amount in Christmas presents, but I guess we paid less graft than any other place in town. That was because no agent ever got a teaspoonful of evidence against us."

I said, "Maybe those Christmas presents were big enough to keep them from trying?"

"Yes?" he said. "Well, I'll tell you. They raided us in June, 1932. A little after noon, eight of them came to the door with a search warrant. So we let them in, and told our customers they had better go.

"Those fellows were in the building nearly 12 hours. They turned the place upside down, took measurements, sounded every wall and ceiling and floor, used probes through the plaster. One of them even got inside the water tank on top of the building. In 12 hours of searching, they never found one drop of whiskey or beer or wine."

I said, "And there was liquor in the place all the time?"

"All the time they were searching, about $40,000 worth. We were serving drinks five minutes after they left. Show him, Mack."

We went out to the iron-grille front door with the glass peep-hole. In a sort of vestibule were four push-buttons, all in different places. "We had four," said Mack, "so that the doorman would be sure to reach one of them, no matter what position he might be wrestled into in a sudden rush."

We went back into the bar, and Mack told the doorman to ring one of the bells. A shrill noise like an alarm clock filled the bar. "That was what we heard," Mack said, "the day the agents came."

Behind the bar, one of the shelves had been rigged up for our experiment. Mack held his hand over another button. "As soon as we heard the alarm," he said, "the waiters moved around to all the tables picking up drinks. Then—"

He pressed the button, and the whole shelf behind the bar tipped backwards toward the wall. We heard a crash of glass, and a wide opening appeared in place of the shelf. The whole supply of bottles at the bar had disappeared. "Next," said Mack, "all the glasses from the tables were emptied down that opening. There wasn't a drop of liquor left in this room."

Then he showed me what became of the bottles and the contents of the glasses. We had to go down in the cellar. The stuff had fallen down a brick lined chute which had iron gratings in it, arranged so that the bottles would strike them, shatter, and tumble on down. At the bottom was a pile of old iron, to break any bottles that survived the gratings. Under this was an opening to a sewer drain, that allowed all the booze to run off.

"All right," said Mack. "They didn't find anything in the bar. So then they began to hunt for hidden stores, and they came down here first." He led me to a storage room. It had shelves all around its walls, and packages of groceries. "There is a secret way out of this room," Mack said. "Find it."

I did. I pushed on a frame of shelves and they slid back, letting us into a little cubby-hole about four feet square lined with white-washed brick. The little closet was empty. "All right," he said. "But this is just the anteroom. Where do we go from here?"

There seemed no possible exit. I hammered on the brick walls and they were perfectly solid. No sign of a break or seam anywhere, so I gave up. Mack reached under a shelf and found a piece of wire about 18 inches long. He thrust the wire its whole length into a tiny hole in the brick wall down near the floor. We heard a slight buzzing sound, and in a moment the wall swung away from us, with no noise at all. We could see into a large room, banked with shelves filled with liquors. I looked at the brick door which swung open. It was a foot thick, bound with iron straps. You could have worked on it all day with pickaxes and make no impression.

Mack said, "We are really under the house next door, now. We could store 5000 cases here in the old days —and this is just one of the five caches we had."

We went out of the dungeon, and its medieval door shut with a small click and became a plain brick wall again. One flight up a back stairway, we came to a closet door. Mack opened it, and inside there were a few waiters' coats hanging on hooks around the wall, a few used collars and a black necktie or two. "All right," he said. "Find the way out of here." When I shook my head he reached up on one of the shelves and found an ordinary table knife horizontally between two coat-hooks, so that it touched both of them, and again we heard the buzzing noise. The rear wall of the closet moved noiselessly back. It was a smaller room this time, but its ceiling was high and both sides were racked with shelves.

Number three was on the fourth floor. Again there was a closet, and again the back wall was a heavy door —a foot thick and as solid as masonry. This one opened when you caught the pole for coat-hangers, which stretched from wall to wall, and thrust it firmly to the left so that it made electric contact in a socket.

"We were a little nervous when those fellows were prying around here," Mack said. "This isn't a very clever one. But we didn't have anything in the cache anyway. At least not anything you could see. Or can you see anything?" We were inside the secret room now. The shelves were quite bare.

He picked up from the floor a bit or iron and ran it along a wall molding. Again we heard the buzzing sound and a whole section of shelves swung away. It was a dungeon within a dungeon—number four of the hideaways—and the shelves were loaded with wine bottles. He explained that there was no reason for keeping the bottles in this mysterious room now except that the temperature was just right for them there. Another cache on the fourth flour was likewise reached through the most innocent looking of closets. A wire coat-hanger carefully draped over two coat hooks let us into this one.

We went back down to the bar. All these mystery-play devices, they told me, had been worked out by a carpenter whose hobby was the making of secret rooms and sliding panels. Charlie said he was glad they did not have to bother any more about hiding their stocks. If those Federal men had found anything, it would have cost a lot of money.

Then Mack spoke up. "I forgot to tell you. When that alarm came, we touched another button behind the bar and short-circuited all the electric devices that let you into the secret rooms. Even if the agents had hit on the tricks—the length of wire and the knife and the coat-hanger—the locks wouldn't have worked for them. They would have had to dynamite the walls to get inside one of those places."

WHITEWASH MIXTURES

The various ways of making whitewash either for the adornment of the home or as a disinfectant of certain farm buildings are of perennial interest.

The mixture used at the Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, Sask., for the inside of buildings used by poultry, sheep, hogs and cattle has several materials added to the lime and water. First, fifty pounds of lime is dissolved in eight gallons of boiling water. To this is added six gallons of hot water which has ten pounds of salt and one pound of alum dissolved in it. A can of lye is added to every twenty-five gallons of the mixture. A pound of cement to every three gallons is gradually added and thoroughly stirred.

The object of using alum is to prevent the lime rubbing off. Cement makes a more creamy mixture so that it is easier to apply and more surface covered. Lye is added for disinfecting purposes, but a quart of creosol disinfectant to every eight gallons would serve the same purpose. Lye is preferred when the color is to be kept white.

Frequently inquiries are made for a waterproof whitewash to be used outside. This can be made as follows: Slake 72 pounds of quicklime in 12 gallons of hot water and add two pounds of salt and one pound of sulphate of zinc dissolved in two gallons of skim milk.

TOO MUCH, OH MUCH TO MUCH!

"Too much oats and too much wheat,
Too much everything that we eat,
Too much cotton and too much oil,
Too many hours that we don't toil,
Too many highways, too many cars,
Too many people behind the bars,
Too much poverty, too much wealth
Too many people with poor health
Too many politics, too much booze,
Too many wearing high-heeled shoes,
Too many loafing, too many bets,
Too many failing to pay their debts,
Too many spending their dough for gas,
Too many talking of Europe's ases
Too many buying beyond their means,
Too many buying canned corn and beans,
Too many sowing their crop of wild oats,
Too many candidates after your votes,
Too many hiring their washing done,
Too many playing bridge for fun,
Too much golf and too much play,
Too many officers on big pay.
Too many taxes, too much spent,
Too many folks spend every cent,
To much fun, too much ease,
To many rips in my B.V.D's,
Too much reform, too much law,
The darndest mess you ever saw."

FANCY BEADED AND FURRED
MOCASSINS & SLIPPERS
Just right for Christmas gifts and the right time for mailing as Christmas Presents For The Old Country
SEE 'EM ANYWAY
Boots and Shoes, Slippers, etc. for the whole Family

---- Wainwright's Leading Shoe Store ----
GRAHAM'S
The Home of Good Shoes

THE EMPRESS CAFE
FRESH FRUIT and GROCERIES
GOOD MEALS GOOD ROOMS CLEAN BEDS
Meals at All Hours
Quan Hall — — Proprietor
CORNER OF FIRST AVE. & MAIN ST.

B. C. LAUNDRY
Second Ave. — Wainwright
FAMILY WET WASH
12 lbs. for $1.00
Rough dry, per doz 40c
(No Blankets)
Deliver Monday for Tuesday Wash
CLEANING and PRESSING
Luke Wing — Prop.

EDWARDSBURG
CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP

The famous energy-producing sweet—an easily digested food invaluable for infants, growing children, and enjoyed by the whole family.
Canada Starch Sales Co., Limited

Great RADIO INVENTION for UNWIRED HOMES!

A marvelous new source of radio power —brings a new type of radio—with the quality of the finest electric set you have ever heard—and electric set convenience!

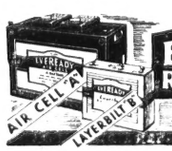

AIR-CELL RADIOS
Are built to operate with the new EVEREADY Air-Cell "A" Battery, an amazing electrical unit that re-energizes itself for at least 1000 hours—which, at 3 hours a day is almost a year's service in the average household.

NO MORE RECHARGING
You have no more battery recharging. Every program comes through clear as a bell for the entire life of the Air-Cell Battery.

But don't confuse the new Air-Cell Radios with ordinary battery-powered sets. They are as unlike the old sets as anything can possibly be. They are new in perfect reception—new in easy operation—new in low upkeep cost.

Air-Cell Radios are now being built by all radio manufacturers—designed specially for the EVEREADY Air-Cell "A" Batteries. Ask any dealer for a demonstration—your interest will be well repaid.

CANADIAN NATIONAL CARBON CO. LIMITED
Calgary Vancouver TORONTO Montreal Winnipeg
AC 104

EVEREADY Radio Batteries

The Rexall Store

Prize Contest
For Boys and Girls

EIGHTEEN WONDERFUL PRIZES
Valued from 1.25 to $12.95

To be given away to the 12 girls and 6 boys under 14 years of age winning the largest number of votes.

CALL AT OUR STORE FOR BILL

Wainwright Pharmacy Ltd.
Drugs, Stationery and Electrical Merchandise
PHONE 46 WAINWRIGHT

Wainwright Meat Market

QUALITY MEATS

COURTEOUS SERVICE

The Best Buy Today

ROLLED BEEF ROAST

Cut from prime beef . . . tender, flavory. Ribbed and rolled to your order. Once tried, it'll soon be a favorite with your family.

E. W. BONNER, Prop.

Phone 33 Main St. Wainwright

COAL ! COAL !

Put in your winter supply before the severe weather starts and the prices advance

Best Grades from $4.00 to $7.00 per ton

STORM DOORS AND STORM SASH

Made to fit in our own factory in Calgary. They save fuel and prevent draughts and sickness

Lumber and All Kinds of Building Materials

Now is the time to repair your buildings and prepare for the winter. We handle everything to build anything and our prices will suit you. Estimates Free.

Atlas Lumber Co.

Homey Homes Joseph Welch, Mgr.
Phone 57 Res. Phone 93
WAINWRIGHT ALBERTA

OUT ON THE LINE IN HALF THE TIME WITH Northern Electric!

Just the moment you purchase a

NORTHERN ELECTRIC WASHER

YOU WILL HAVE A WASHDAY AID THAT COMBINES BEAUTY OF APPEARANCE WITH AMAZING PERFORMANCE

All Northern Electric's experience in building electrical equipment stands behind these washers. They are sturdily constructed, embodying Northern Electric's greatest achievement—DIRECT ANTI-FRICTION DRIVE they are practically noiseless and vibrationless. The new "French-Type agitator" gives better washing performance, definitely prevents clothes from tangling or twisting and handles the most rugged or the most delicate fabrics with equal efficiency and equal safety. Northern Electric washers are trouble-free. There is no costly servicing. No change of oil is necessary for three years. They are economical in their first cost and economical to use.

Today's greatest value in electric washers now on display

TORY'S SERVICE STATION

PHONE 5 WAINWRIGHT

COAL & WOOD RANGES

FOR THE COLD

RADIANTS & HEATERS

WINTER MONTHS

PIPES, DOOR FELT, ETC.

WASHBURN'S

"If it's Hardware we have it"

Main Street Wainwright

NEWS & VIEWS OF TOWN AND DISTRICT

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. C. Rogers, at the Wainwright municipal hospital on November 5th, a boy.

* * *

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. M. Strauss, of Fabyan, at the Wainwright municipal hospital on November 5th, a girl.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kirby and their daughter Dorothy, of Stettler, spent the week end in town on a visit to Mr. O'Callaghan and his family.

* * *

Mr. Peter Milne, the nominee for the provincial Liberal seat, who has been spending a week in Edmonton in conference, gave us a call while on his way back to his home in Edgerton on Monday.

* * *

The plan for tickets for the big operetta at the Elite theatre on Friday, November 23rd is open at the Standard Pharmacy, and "Miss Cherryblossom" will be awaiting your visit there on that date.

* * *

Mr. M. D. Meade, of the high school staff, is away to the city, in attendance at the annual convention of high school teachers there this week end.

* * *

His Lordship Rt. Rev. Bishop Burgett, of Edmonton, who was a guest at St. Thomas' vicarage over the week end, left on Monday night's train for Ottawa where he will commence a preaching tour on behalf of the Church in Western Canada.

* * *

We are glad to note that Mrs. Jules Bamelis, who was on the sick list for some days, is now out and around again, as smiling as ever.

* * *

Miss P. Stronach was a visitor to the home of her parents at Kinsella last week end.

* * *

 Right now while the good weather lasts is the time to effect repairs and improvements to your property. And don't forget that the right place to buy (and buy right) is at the Atlas yard for all your needs. Joe Welch, agent.

* * *

Mr. Eli Scraba, the genial bookkeeper at the Brunker garage is back again from his week end in the city.

* * *

Attention is drawn to the advertisement regarding the Swine Club judging competition on November 20. This should prove attractive, and an extra $5 prize is being offered by Bill Stuart.

* * *

Messrs Lee and Tory assure us that the back of old man D. Pression must surely be broken. This week they disposed of their thirty-sixth new radio for this season.

* * *

Miss K. Challenger, of Edgerton, was a visitor in town, before continuing her drive to Edmonton for the week end.

* * *

 The girls of the Separate High school are holding a dance in the Masonic hall on Friday evening next, and a pleasant time is promised. A good orchestra will provide music and refreshments will be served, and everybody is invited. Remember Friday evening next at 9 p.m.

* * *

After a pleasant holiday with her cousin, Miss M. Ford, in town, Miss J. Innis returned to her home at Senlac, Sask., last week end.

* * *

We regret to learn that School-Principal Thoreson has been again under the weather this week, but despite the longed-for holiday for the students the balance of the high-school staff very efficiently carried on during the "boss' " absence.

* * *

Mr. Frank Minter is leaving at the end of the week to spend the winter in the Old Country. He sails from Montreal on November 22nd, and his friends are wondering "Will he return still single?"

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. G. Symes, Mr. and Mrs. E. Symes and their daughter Rita, and Mr. and Mrs. Jenson were all visitors to the city during the past week.

* * *

Tickets and posters from The Star office announce that "Buffalo Rangers" hockey club is staging a dance in the theatre on November 16th, when a good time is promised to all.

* * *

Mrs. Cal. Mackenzie was away a few days last week visiting friends in the city.

Owing no doubt to the changeable weather we have experienced during the past week, colds and coughs (and in some cases a touch of tonsilitis) seem to be very prevalent these days.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Dickins motored up to the city last week end, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Dickins' mother on Saturday.

* * *

Mr. V. H. Ricci, who has just disposed of his newspaper and printing plant at Rainy River, Ont., was a visitor to The Star on Monday en route to his farm interests in the Killam district. He reports a dandy motor trip through to the west.

* * *

The Rev. Father McBriarty who has been conducting a well-attended Catholic mission in town for the past week left on Monday to return to Edmonton.

* * *

We are glad to know that Nurse Prosser of the hospital who has been on the sick list for several days is feeling much better.

* * *

Mr. Meyer, who farms in the McLaughlin district, has completed a small house on the north edge of town, and has moved his family into town so that the children can attend school.

* * *

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Knox, south of town, was rushed to hospital at the week end for an appendix operation, and Mrs. Knox tells us that the youngster is getting along nicely.

* * *

 The depression too much for your nerves? Join the library; read others' thoughts and lives.

* * *

It should be noted that the general public are cordially invited to attend the sessions of the teachers' convention being held in town Thursday and Friday, as well as the big public meeting in the theatre on Thursday evening. No charge is made at any meeting.

§ COMING EVENTS §

Jot down the date—Friday, November 23rd next—which has been set for the big musical operetta "Miss Cherry Blossom" to be produced at the Elite theatre.

The ladies of St. Thomas' W.A. have set the date for their Fall Sale as Saturday, November 17th. Afternoon tea, sale of home cooking and fancy goods, etc., and fish pond in the Odd Fellow's hall, commencing at 3 p.m.

§ CLASSIFIED ADS. §

FOR SALE

REGISTERED TAMWORTH BOAR for sale with papers; University of Alberta bred; $15 takes it. Apply Frank Minter, phone R506, Wainwright. 21-11

A FEW GOOD WORK HORSES FOR sale; also young pure-bred Yorkshire Boar.—Apply R. H. Valleau, phone R1109, Greenshields. 21-11

WANTED — A SECOND HAND Dresser or Chiffonier in good condition for cash. —Apply to Star Office.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. C. W. McBride still continues on the sick list, and extend hopes for her speedy recovery to the full enjoyment of health and strength.

* * *

Mr. Hugh Kemp is away in the city enjoying a couple of week stay with his daughter, Mrs. H. Lepper there.

* * *

A real advertisement for Wainwright as a hunter's paradise the coat of Mr. McBride of the Bank of Montreal, and some of his hunter friends will take some beating. He was requested to supply a nice partridge dinner for some very great friends in Edmonton last week; so of course the boys went out with their salt shaker (or guns, or whatever they catch these little feathered streaks of greased lightning with) and was proudly able to ship a number of Hungarians within a few hours of the receipt of the telegram making the request. Wainwright to the fore, again.

* * *

 We insure your fur coat against fire, theft, or any other damage for the small sum of $3.00 per year. Joe Welch, the insurance man.

* * *

It is interesting to note that the report has been received of the tuberculin test of the animals at the O.K. dairy, and that all of the "boosies" have been pronounced absolutely o.k.

* * *

New and renewal subscriptions are rolling in very nicely, thank you! and you had better take advantage of that big offer on page six before it is closed. The advantage applies to both new and renewal subscriptions to The Star. Drop in with that three dollars.

J. W. STUART
AUCTIONEER AND LIVE STOCK DEALER

Regular Shipping Dates
November 20
December 4th
Highest Prices Paid—See Me For Satisfaction

I am prepared to do
Custom Grinding & Sawing
Prices Reasonable
Work done at your own place
Make your dates early with MILO MELVIN
P O. 78 Wainwright

for baby
O. K. MILK is best

Little tots thrive on it and do you know why? Its rich in cream . . . rich in health, giving qualities that build bone and muscle. Scores of mothers in Wainwright endorse it.

15 QUARTS $1.00

O.K. Dairy
KINGHORN AND BEAR
Phone R104 Driver will call

The Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.
Wainwright Branch, No. 29 Beg to announce the following
Armistice Day Programme

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 10th
POPPY DAY

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 11th

Two minutes silence, laying of wreaths, Last Post, etc., at the Memorial Tower at 11 a.m.

All ex-soldiers are requested to parade at the Town Hall at 10.45 a.m. sharp.

Special Memorial Service at the Anglican Church immediately following the 11 o'clock parade.

Special Memorial Service in the Roman Catholic Church at 7.30 p.m.

The Annual Public Memorial Service will be held in the Elite Theatre at 3.00 p.m.

Medals and Decorations to be worn at all services.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 12th

Annual Legion Dinner will be held in the Wainwright Hotel at 8 p.m.

Owing to limited space tickets for this dinner, 50c each will be on sale at Graham's Shoe Store, The Station Restaurant, The Gas Office, McLeod and Sons, and from any of the branch executive committee to ex-service men and women only, from Nov. 1st up to and including Nov. 7th, after which date any available space will be at the disposal of the general public.

Ex-service men will greatly assist the committee by purchasing their tickets in advance. Space will be reserved at the dinner for all tickets sold.

12 SNAPPY SPECIALS FOR
THURS., FRI., SAT., NOVEMBER 8-9-10

Pure Strawberry JAM, 4 lb. tin	47c
ROLLED OATS, 20 lbs.	89c
PRUNES, 3 lbs.	35c
ICING SUGAR, 2 lbs.	19c
B.C. SUGAR, 20 lbs.	$1.37
ONIONS, 10 lbs.	25c
SOPADE, pkt.	19c
MONTCALM FLOUR, 98 lbs.	$2.59
Orchard City PEACHES, tin	19c
Our Own Label TEA, lb.	45c
Fort Garry TOBACCO, 2 pkts.	15c
CHOCOLATE BISCUITS, lb.	22c

Forryan's Grocery
For Service — — Phone 18
"If You Get It At Forryan's It's Good"

$1.00 VALUE FOR 65c
ONE REGULAR 50c BOX OF DAY DREAM FACE POWDER and your selection of Any 50c Day Dream Article
BOTH FOR 65c
GET YOURS NOW—OUR SUPPLY IS LIMITED

Standard Pharmacy
MEALS AND LUNCHES

DINNER IS READY !

What a rush for the table there'll be when the family sees one of our

TENDER JUICY ROASTS

Resting there on the platter—all browned and juicy, garnished and everything. Or try one of our

SELECT POULTRY

Alma Meat Market
P. PERRAS, Prop.
Agent for Holden Creamery and Alberta Dairy Pool
PHONE 99 FREE DELIVERY

Difficult Times

Make it all the more imperative that you be fully insured against Fire, and that your policies are not allowed to lapse.

We represent some of the most reliable companies handling

Fire, Life, Automobile and in fact every kind of Insurance

WAINWRIGHT AGENCIES
J. W. STUART, mgr.
MAIN STREET WAINWRIGHT

ELITE THEATRE

Sat., Mon., Tues., November 10-12-13
United artists present RONALD COLMAN in
"THE MASQUERADER"
Universal Two Reel Comedy Entitled
"THE BIG BENEFIT"
Single Reel,—"OSWALD, THE TEACHER'S PEST"

Wednesday and Thursday only, Nov. 14-15
Universal Radio Stars. Millions have heard them over the air, now is your chance to see them on the screen
"MYRT and MARGE"
A feature comedy with plenty of good entertainment
EPISODE No. 8 OF THE AIR SERIAL
"PHANTOM OF THE AIR"
Single Reel Cartoon—"WILLIAM TELL"
PLUS THE WEEKLY UNIVERSAL NEWS

Friday Night, November 16th — Wainwright Hockey Boys Annual Big Opening Dance and Turkey Lunch

COMING SOON—DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM—WATCH FOR TITLES